PRESENT STATE OF CHICAGO.

Sufferings of the Homeless Inhabitants—Arrival of Provisions—Summary Punishment of Rioters—Removal of the Grain Trade.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—A great deal of suffering has occurred among the people since Monday night, who were obliged to camp out on the prairie. Quite a number of deaths have resulted from exposure. The Relief Committee has impressed all kinds of vehicles to carry water and provisions to them, and are bringing them into the churches and school-houses on the west and south sides. Immense quantities of provisions have arrived, many car-loads being cooked and ready for distribution. The Committee have telegraphed to several places to stop sending more at present. Twenty car-loads of provisions and 10,000 blankets came from Cincinnati, and twenty cars from St. Louis. Large quantities of provisions have arrived from other cities. New-York has made tenders of large amounts of money, many of her private citizens giving $10,000 each.

All the railroads leading out of Chicago are carrying, free of charge, such of the homeless as have friends in other places. The Common Council has passed an ordinance fixing the price of bread at eight cents for a loaf of twelve ounces, and fixing the penalty at $10 for a violation of this ordinance.

Forty-one persons were shot in making arrests last night. The Station-house is filled with prisoners. The number of bodies recovered from the ruins now reaches ninety.

The Cook County National Bank resumed business this morning at No. 68 Wabash-avenue. All funds and papers of value of the bank were saved. There is great strife to obtain rooms and stores for the resumption of business.

The total loss of grain is now definitely ascertained to be 1,620,000 bushels. Four vessels were loaded with grain for the East today, and the Eastern movement will continue, as there are fully 5,000,000 bushels now in store.

Water was let into the South Division this afternoon, so that all the populated portions of the city are now supplied with it.

A number of bank vaults have been opened, and their contents, without exception, were uninjured. Every bank in the city claims that in time it will be able to pay every dollar of its indebtedness. Two eight-cylinder presses of the Chicago Tribune are all right and are ready for use as soon as steam can be attached. About 800 people escaped on a barge which fortunately lay in one of the slips in the river, floated out and down to a pier, where a steamer towed them out in the Lake, where they remained until yesterday.

The Relief Committee from Cincinnati are putting the munificent contributions of that city into shape, which will not only prove of great practical benefit to the sufferers, but will make the assistance rendered permanent for the Winter. They are erecting an immense soup-house, complete in all details, at the rear of the freight depot of the Great Eastern Railroad, in the vicinity of West Side. By to-morrow they will be ready to distribute 6,000 gallons of soup daily. Shanties are being built upon open lots in convenient localities, and made as comfortable as possible for temporary occupancy.

Mayor MASON telegraphs to all Committees and persons sending aid to Chicago as follows:

> In cases where money is subscribed, send or hold the money subject to my order, instead of purchasing supplies. This will prevent our receiving an excess of one kind and unable us to take the very one need, such as shelter and fuel, which will be so necessary during the coming Winter.
> (Signed.) R. B. MASON, Mayor.

Meeting of Bankers to Arrange for the Resumption of Business.

CHICAGO, Oct. 11.—A meeting of the bankers of this city was held this afternoon, at which all the national and private banks were represented, for the purpose of consultation as to the course to be pursued by the banking interests of this city. Mr. COOLBAUGH was elected Chairman. On taking the chair he made a few remarks, in the course of which he said that there are evidences that the disaster is not so great as estimated, and that in the aggregate the insurance companies would be able to pay at least fifty per cent. upon the total amount of insurance losses. He expressed his individual opinion that the banks were solvent, and would pay every dollar of their indebtedness, but, to accomplish this, uniformity of action was necessary. The deposits amount to twenty or thirty millions, and of that sum, perhaps, in the aggregate twenty-five, thirty, thirty-five or forty per cent. is immediately available. The principal thing for the meeting to determine was, how and when they proceed in the transaction of their business. Immediate resumption was thought impracticable, but some plan should be adopted by which the business of the city and county could be protected, and facilities extended to the business of the future. A committee, consisting of Mr. SMITH, Chairman, Mr. E. BLAKE, of Merchants' National Bank, Mr. FRASER, of the Third National, and Mr. RAMSAY, President of the Corn Exchange Bank, was appointed to frame resolutions to be submitted to the meeting. Several representatives of railroad lines being present desired concert of action, and a committee of four was appointed to confer with the railroad representatives. In order to give the Committees time to prepare reports, the meeting adjourned until 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

THE FIRE.

Statement of an Eye-Witness.

Mr. THOMAS PARKER, foreman of HORTON & LEONARDS, railroad printers, arrived in this City yesterday evening from Chicago to purchase printing material for his employers. He was in the stricken city from the commencement of the fire up to Monday last, when he left for this City. Mr. PARKER says that after the fire of Saturday night everybody had settled down to the conviction that no further danger was in store, and when the fire on Sunday night broke out, there was but little excitement, it being supposed that it was an alarm caused by the subdued fire showing further signs of life.

When it became known that a fire had broken out at some distance from the old one, the people began to awaken to the sense of the fresh calamity. Mr. PARKER walked briskly to the scene of the conflagration, with a hurrying throng who pressed with eager anxiety to the scene. While walking a distance of a quarter of a mile, four whole blocks were destroyed. The excitement grew in intensity, and people became almost frantic with accumulating fears. Children ran crying through the streets, women wept and wrung their hands, and men seemed to have lost control of themselves. [illegible] The fire in the business portion of the fourth ward on Sunday night was but little if any less disastrous than that which on the next day and since has been perpetrated in the city. Everybody seemed stunned and dismayed, and looked on in wonder and amazement. A great many made pitiable efforts to rescue some of their goods and personal effects from the devouring flames, and were seen staggering under the weight of the burdens with which they had loaded themselves. Few had sufficient presence of mind to take only enough for their present wants, and the majority took more than it was possible for them to carry away of a piece of safety. Hosted by the fire, and tottering under their heavy loads, they dropped much of their burden on the way, to be afterward burned. Soon there was but little effort to save property, and all that the mass of those living in the burnt district thought was to escape the terrible heat and the danger of loss of life from falling walls and the rushing flames. "I can only," said Mr. PARKER, "compare the manner in which the fire was kept going to a coal fire in a grate which started and left to itself will burn slowly, but when the blower is applied, it begins to burn with rapidity. The heavy gale of wind prevailing at the time, acted with the same effect as a blower to the grate, and spread the fire with such speed that it would seem incredible to me, had I not seen it with my own eyes."

Mr. PARKER making his way to the Twelfth-street Bridge, the only bridge left to cross the river, was obliged to evade falling stone, brick and cinders, and several times took refuge in buildings along the route. A crowd of people had gathered in the Court-house, which was supposed to be fire-proof, and, standing in an isolated position in the centre of a square, was imagined to be a place of safety. On came the flames, however, and the refugees were soon obliged to abandon the Court-house. Mr. PARKER passed the Tribune office, which has routed, and ran into the building to rescue the files. The first side of the paper had gone to press, and the presses were hard at work with the fire close at hand.

On the Twelfth-street Bridge two streams of people met, the fugitives from and those coming to see the fire, when created a great crash and made it difficult for either side to cross. Wabash-avenue and Lake-street presented a spectacle never to be forgotten, of people struggling and swarming together. The scene was rendered as bright as daylight by the fire.

Mr. PARKER finally reached his printing office; seeing fire on every side, fire everywhere, he believed that Chicago was doomed to utter destruction. When he left the city the people were completely demoralized, and the City Government thrown into confusion.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—The following was telegraphed to Boston today, viz.:

> EXECUTIVE MANSION, Washington, Oct. 11.
> To Hon. Samuel Hooper, Boston, Mass.:
> Would it not be well for the good people of Boston to dispense with the ceremony and expense of a public reception on the occasion of my visit to your city, and to appropriate such portion of the fund set apart for that purpose as is deemed advisable for the relief of the sufferers by the Chicago disaster? I am sure such a course would please me.
> U. S. GRANT.

The following was received here today:

> CHICAGO, Oct. 11.
> To M. D. Townsend, Adjutant-General, Washington:
> There was some excitement here yesterday and last evening, but it is now quieting down. Some of the troops from Leavenworth and Omaha are coming in. I have taken all the necessary steps to meet the condition of affairs here.
> (Signed) P. H. SHERIDAN,

Supplies of tents from Jeffersonville, Ind., on Gen. SHERIDAN's requisition, have been forwarded. Gen. VAN VLIET sent at 7½ this morning Major HODGES, of the Quartermaster's Department, in charge of a special train from Philadelphia, with blankets. They will reach Chicago on Thursday, and Gen. SHERIDAN has been advised that there are more tents at Jeffersonville at his disposal.

Every effort is being made to prevent any delay in mails for the North-west. GEORGE S. BANGS, Superintendent of the Railway Mail Service, one of the oldest and most efficient Post-office men in the country, has reached Chicago, and everything possible will be done to reorganize mail service at once.

Several thousand dollars were raised today among the clerks and employes of the Treasury and other Departments.

The Secretary of the Treasury, this morning, received telegrams from London and Canada, inquiring if clothing, blankets, &c., for the people of Chicago, would be admitted free of duty. The Secretary immediately replied that such goods would be admitted free, and gave the necessary orders to Collectors.

Acting-Governor STANTON has issued a proclamation convening the Legislative Assembly, tomorrow, to legalize a loan of $100,000 for the relief of Chicago. Twenty-five thousand dollars on that account will be forwarded to Chicago tomorrow. The amount contributed in the Post-office Department today was $2,400, the Postmaster-General and First Assistant SMITH heading the list with liberal subscriptions. The Board of Supervising Inspectors now in session in this city, contributed $220 for the relief of the Chicago sufferers, being $20 for each member of the board. Hon. EDON C. INGERSOLL, Chairman of the Illinois State Republican Association, sent this day to the Mayor of Chicago, per Adams Express, $4,000 for the relief of the sufferers. Various measures have been taken to increase the subscriptions by benevolent associations, churches, concerts, theatrical performances, &c. There seems little doubt that the District of Columbia will, in the aggregate, contribute $150,000.

Effect of the News in England—Active Measures Taken for the Relief of the Sufferers.

LONDON, Oct. 11.—The chief topic of interest here in all circles, is the calamity which has overtaken Chicago. At Clubs, exchanges, news-rooms, in the parlors of hotels, everywhere where men were assembled, the appalling disaster was talked about, and the brief accounts transmitted through the cables discussed. At first the telegrams were regarded as greatly exaggerated; but as each succeeding dispatch confirmed and increased the extent of the losses, and private advices began to be received, a feeling of deep sympathy was aroused, and a desire was manifested to contribute in some effective manner to the relief of the sufferers. This disposition was quickly directed to the proper channel by prominent gentlemen and firms opening subscription lists and volunteering to receive and forward contributions. Hon. HUGH MCCULLOCH, J. S. MORGAN & CO., and other American bankers, were among the first to take active measures in this behalf. The subscriptions are already flowing in liberally, and a large sum of money will be telegraphed to the order of proper parties in America within a few days.

At Liverpool a Committee has been organized, who have already made arrangements to dispatch a cargo of food and clothing for the destitute poor at Chicago. No time will be lost, as the funds for the purpose are subscribed and paid in.

Mr. SCHENCK, the United States Minister, has issued an invitation to all Americans in and near London to meet at the Langham Hotel, to-morrow, for the purpose of organizing relief committees. Gen. ADAM BADEAU, the United States Consul-General, has sent a circular to all the Consuls and consular agents within his jurisdiction, requesting their active aid and participation in the work of collecting and forwarding contributions within their respective territories.

The Times this morning has a leader on the subject. It deplores the fire, the news of which is brought by cable, and hopes the dispatches may have magnified the loss. The writer declares his faith in the energy of Americans and in the resources of Chicago, and earnestly wishes that the unfortunate city and its suffering inhabitants may promptly recover from the effects of the disaster.

Other journals make the same topic prominent. Several of them recall the munificence of America to the starving people of Lancashire, and declare that Englishmen must not only repay that generous kindness, but must aid to restore the city, which has been regarded as a monument of American enterprise.

AID FROM NEW-YORK.

Feeling of Security Among Commercial Classes—Contributions Pouring in from Every Quarter—Solace for the Suffering Going Forward at Lightning Speed.

The news received yesterday from Chicago was of such a character as to restore confidence among all classes of business men, and assurances were expressed and sincerely felt that as time wore on the merchants of that city would be enabled to recuperate, and that the demands of trade would be even greater than before. Among the creditors in this city of Chicago houses no fears were expressed of their solvency and ultimate ability to meet every liability against them. The news from the afflicted city was, on the whole, decidedly cheering, and our merchants will doubtless be as ready to extend credits in the future as they have been to donate from their substance to the relief of the sufferers by the fire. The operations of the Stock Exchange yesterday showed very clearly that confidence was being restored in railway securities. The course of the gold market did not so clearly indicate what might be expected in the future, for the price of gold is just now sensibly affected by the operations of European markets.

The responses to its appeals for aid which have been made from every quarter, are so generous as to make Americans proud of their country, and nowhere has the response been more liberal than in this City and vicinity. Money, provisions, clothing and everything that can alleviate suffering, have been poured out with a free hand and forwarded, through the liberality of the transportation companies, with promptness and dispatch. Acting on the principle that that charity is most welcome which is prompt in its bestowal, our citizens scarcely finished the perusal of the details of the calamity than they unloosed their purse-strings, and with a free heart and a willing hand gave of their abundances to succor the needy. In every public body subscription-lists were opened, and all, no matter how humble, seemed to feel it a privilege to donate something to the relief of the sufferers.

THE ACTION OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

The Committee appointed by the Chamber of Commerce met yesterday, at 11 o'clock A. M., Mr. JOHN C. GREEN in the chair. Subcommittees were appointed, consisting of three members, and he divided as much as possible into trades.

Mr. ORDYKE said: I have just now received a communication from DREXEL, MORGAN & Co., stating that a Relief Committee has been appointed by the Mayor of Chicago, and he requests that subscriptions be sent to C. C. P. HOLDEN, Chairman of that Committee.

Mr. MORRIS K. JESUP said he also received a telegraphic message from the same source requesting that all contributions should be sent in currency, and on his motion it was resolved to send $50,000 for the immediate relief of the sufferers. The Treasurer, Mr. A. A. LOW, was authorized to send to central agents to represent the Committee in Chicago.

Mr. A. A. LOW observed that Gen. SHERIDAN had regarded this fire as a national disaster, and he moved for the appointment of a committee to confer with the Government as to its giving further aid when it is required.

The motion was adopted, and Mr. CHIBO, a partner of MORRIS K. JESUP, and a resident of Chicago, was appointed to represent the Committee in this City.

Mr. LOW stated that the money would be deposited in the Bank of Commerce, in the name of LOW & SONS.

The Chairman read a telegram from A. S. LANCASTER, No. 797 Wabash-avenue, Chicago, stating there were 50,000 destitute of clothing and bedding, and calling for aid. The following additional subscriptions are announced, and the Committee adjourned to Thursday:

volves all others. If elections cannot be real and honest, the majority cannot rule, and then self-government and public liberty are gone. Are elections in this State real now? Have they been honest of late years? When I say real and honest, I mean has every elector enjoyed the right to vote once and only once, and to have his vote, and all others, honestly counted and returned? No one, we apprehend, and informed, will deny that on Manhattan Island elections have long been worse than a sham. False voting and false counting decide every contest. This would be fruitful if the usurpation resignated only the million people in the City of New-York. But the fraud is morally chain by piracy of the ballot-box in the metropolis, and nearly five million people are subjected to their sway. No matter what majorities roll up where the green grass grows, the Huss pavement overlops them with false majorities swollen to suit the occasion. The gigantic frauds which now convulse New-York, harness the nation, and amaze the world, could never have been perpetrated without the villainy which counted TOMM T. HOFFMAN into the office of Governor, to which JOHN A. GRISWOLD was elected, and which seated men in the Legislature in defiance of the votes of their constituents. To break up this monstrous system, Congress last year passed that which laid hold upon it. It was an imperial act. It provided for a scrutiny of the registries to detect repeaters, and for safeguards against false counts. It would have purged New-York of much iniquity. TWEED and HALL could not repeal it—they do not "run" Congress yet. Society set themselves about outwitting and circumventing the law of the land. We had a State statute requiring registration in New-York—the strongest barrier the State had raised against utter prostitution of the ballot. The act of Congress was based in part on this statute, and the act would be pulsied to some extent should the statute be taken away. This, therefore, was one of the exactions perpetrated last Winter by a legislative majority absolutely controlled by and recruited by bribery. Nothing, perhaps, more clearly exposes the dominion of the Tammany cabal, and the Tammany taint in the Democratic Party, than the fact that the Convention at Rochester has just virtually indorsed this dishonest overthrow of the Registry law, and declared against its Re-enactment. The 15th of April, 1871, should be ever memorable in the calendar of party rascality. On that day the bandits, whose first name is Tammany Hall, carried through the Legislature, and a Democratic Governor afterward signed, five bills, which, with a sixth, passed the day after, constitute a back of the Registry law, whereupon Englishmen would have submitted since they cut off CHARLES' head. One of these enactments virtually struck down the Registry law, and gave into the hands of HALL and his agents the whole machinery of elections and results. This wrong, just varnished by the Rochester Convention, is almost unspeakable. Repealing act must be repealed—the bolts struck round the ballot-box must be made stouter than before. Unless this be done, you do nourish yourselves; knaves and repeaters rule you. If ballotops can not be prevented in one city or State, they can not be prevented in another; and when elections fail, our Republic crumbles, and the government which a million of voters could not carry, and which a sea of blood has ransomed, will crumble in the presence of an inert and degenerate people.

BRIBERY.

Next in enormity to stuffing the ballot-box with illegal votes, and, then stifling its voice by false counts, is bribery at the polls and in legislative bodies. This practice, too, we blush to know, has its great source and centre in New-York. The Legislature of New-York alone can uproot it. The TAX LEVIES for the City annually passed by the Albany corruption fund; debauch elections not only in our Manhattan Island, but throughout the State, and beyond the State—Connecticut, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and even more distant regions, are theatres whereon Tammany enacts its drama of prodigacy. Is bribes and seduces many presses and many men—not Democrats alone, far from it—and to that end is ever ready to spend almost as the high-headed, the pretentious and demure. Is this broad-spreading iniquity is to receive a death-blow or a new lease of life at the hands of the next Senate and Assembly. Are not these grave and weighty matters? But they are not all.

RECENT VICIOUS LEGISLATION AND ITS EFFECTS.

The last two Winters have inscribed on our statute book other enactments full of vice. The charter of New-York and other cognate acts, have handed a horde of scouts had men to grasp by the throat the best quality in the western world. They have intrenched themselves on every side. They have muzzled and subsidized newspapers with useless corporation advertisements. They have maintained multitudes of retainers in sinecures with lavish pay, and every avenue swarms with their open and secret agents. They have blindfolded the rich with the fear of exorbitant assessments and taxes, they have allured the needy and rapacious with gold and with advantage. The indignant have been marvelously soothed, and respectability has been made to pay tribute to them, and even to whitewash their iniquities. They have made it safe and profitable to be with them, and dangerous and ruinous to be against them. They have set up and pulled down men, notably in the Democratic Party, but a partisan police, a licentious press, an army of hirelings and abettors, on both sides, and other instrumentalities vile still, have been employed to punish and destroy Republicans they could not buy, to tarnish Republicans who were accomplices with them, and to debauch and control the committees and conventions of their political opponents.

NEW-YORK CITY.

Look at the crimes of this great conspiracy against society. Look at the City of New-York. In many respects it is the proudest City in the world. When we consider its geographical position, its colossal trade, its unequaled activities, its princely commerce, its temples of learning and religion, its civilization and refinement, its unexampled growth, and its magnificent destiny, where shall we find compassed in the same space more to invoke the sympathy and admiration of mankind? Yet all this and more is tremendous spoilers. Its streets reek with filth—its fabulous expense maintains and cleaning them. Its highways and by-ways breed sin and crime—its officials loiter on every crossing. Police Commissioners, and Captains, and Courts, attended by retinues which no man can number, are paid for guarding life and property—yet the most daring offences go unwhipt of public vengeance, and the very temples of justice has been made a commodity, and the Judgeship has come so low, that a continent was electrified when Judge BARNARD, pinching the ermine from the dust, sent forth his injunction order to stay the most stupendous robbery of recorded time. Millions are as insulting mockery, and official returns of crime—the verdicts of people's willvouchers and warrants the highest and most solemn known to us, next to the Constitution itself, are but forgeries of thimble-riggers, and the sport of those who jeer at decency. Commerce is driven from our wharves, because our harbor is a field for rascalous extortion, and is ruled by State officials. Is the name of quarantine, wholesome restrictions stand waiting at our gates, while in the name of health contagion comes with tribute in its hand. The London Times cautions the world to beware the harbor of New-York with its ruinous exactions, and the Health Office floats like a gilded buoy, warning the ships of all nations to keep aloof, and steer for ports in other States, or in the British Provinces. Liberties and rights respected in foreign cities, find no sanctuary here. In Catholic Dublin and York, men and women can parade on a Protestant anniversary, but in New-York they are officially ordered from the streets, in words inciting other souls to riot; and then at the instant of the outbreak the governor, the military shoot down the offended victims of the religious zeal, whom an abject Police Board and a cravens Mayor have lured and baited to their fate. Monstrous taxes are laid on property and wrung from toil, to bribe legislators and electors, and to fatten the glattonized support the aprons and sword-bearers of men who quadrine kings in luxury. Is there on the book of time such a picture as has been given to the world by the courage and genius of the NEW-YORK TIMES? Was ever theft so huge? It is the grandest of grand hieroglyphics. It dizzies arithmetic and bankrupts figures. WARREN HASTINGS in India, conquerors, proconsuls and satraps, cities sacked and provinces wasted—these are dwarfish and petty now. The debt of the City is said to be about one hundred millions. More than sixty millions has been created within less than three years. This mortgages every foot of land from Spuyten Duyvel to the Battery for more than one-tenth of its valuation. The same rate of expenditure continued for a while, would have bankrupted and eviscerated the County of New-York. But better in the end than the money itself, would it be to know what has become of it. We know about a part of it, but not the worse part. Some of it has been appropriated by individuals to enrich themselves, and this is probably the least guilty use that has been made of it.

THE GREAT SACHEM, AND OTHERS.

There is one Tammany Sachem who makes Albany glorious in Winter, and whose sumptuous apartments at the Delavan House have been the scene of events so rare and mixed and varied as to show that party lines make no partitions or divisions there, save partitions and divisions of the common benefits. This practical man, and friend of practical men irrespective of party, was, as the record shows, discharged under the Two-third act as an insolvent debtor only ten years ago. His assignment for the benefit of his creditors bears date Oct. 6, 1861. He was then worth not so much as his debts, and his creditors, satisfied of his insolvency, consented that he make over such property as he owned, and have receipt in full. Since this discharge, we are told he has been in no business, yet he is said now to be the largest owner of real estate on Manhattan Island, except WILLIAM B. ASTOR, and personal property swells by millions his overrunning wealth. These fortunate accumulations he is saving for a day that yet he is no muser—nay, he has been known to give, from charity, to the poor of a single Ward, fifty thousand dollars. Beginning at home, as all true charity does, the bread he casts upon the waters returns to him even on wedding days. Diamonds for shoe-buttons, and blazing gems which half a million would not buy, are said to be the reflex of the bounties he dispenses. CESAR'S head was stamped upon a penny, but this ruler's face, borne on medallions of precious metal for the Metropolitan Hotel, is, it seems, to adorn the table service from which the Democracy will feed, while they see before them "ambrosia" "the very axe and body of the time." This man, aided by a confederate of less energy, but more reflection than himself, has for two years at least been the master and power of the Democratic Party—and he is so still. He may have received more money than others, but others have been fortunate. A transfer of half a million bonds to a son-in-law, does not suggest improvident personal provision, because it is out of three and a half million of like bonds remaining after the transfer has been made. All who came in on the "ground floor," seem to have secured more than a competence.

MAYOR HALL.

Poverty is said not to be surely among the uncounted graces even of the Mayor. It is consoling to believe that he will still be able "to [illegible] and dismay" in new suits of grass, and to resume at leisure those Sabbath-day contributions to the literature of the Republican Party, which have been contributed of late by other "ministerial" duties, but which now receive the acknowledgment of none. He has decorated with his vituperation, and never aspersed by his grace. Should this world's goods ever prove scant, he will yet be rich a more precious treasure. That matchless arnat NAST has rendered him immortal, and prepared for him a memorable "on dit" to "set the table in a roaring round." There he may "stand a public sign." Dispensing the millions absorbed by officials, where are the other missing tens of millions?

CITY ACCOUNTS.

In form, fabulous sums are represented in false accounts for plastering, carpets, curtains, furniture, repairs, armories, and other fictitious items. The Secretary of the Interior, a very competent authority, has taken the pains to analyze and contrast some of these accounts. He says:

[illegible] paid a larger sum for repairs, carpets and furniture for Grimly offices, than the present Administration has expended for the same purposes throughout the United States; nearly three times as much as the entire diplomatic expenses for two years past; as much as the yearly cost of collecting the customs revenue; nearly three times as much as the miscellaneous expenditures of the Interior Department for other than the proper administration, and more than the entire annual expenses of the Indian Bureau. Here is a larger sum paid in eleven months for plastering than the entire expenses of the United States for foreign intercourse during the present Administration; and more for plumbing and gas-fitting, in the same period, than the entire annual salaries of all the public officers employed in Washington City. There was paid more money to three men for such expenditures, in one year, than was paid for the collection of the entire internal revenue of the country in any year of the present Administration; more than double the expense of the United States Courts for two years, and more than all the expenses of the Forty-first Congress.

The accounts he refers to have these items among others:

DEGNISON & CO., for carpenter work and furniture in Court-house and armories (during 1869 and 1870, $6,094,164 30).

ANDREW J. GARVEY, for plastering in Court-house, hall and armories, in two years: $2,928,486 00.

HAYDEN & CO., for plumbing and gas-fitting in the Court-house and armories, in less than two years, $1,321,617 72.

The new Court-house is not completed, and has cost already upward of $13,000,000.

In Brooklyn, between 1861 and 1865, (when prices were higher,) a Court-house was erected nearly as large, and quite similar in character and material. The Brooklyn Court-house cost $551,782 26, and repairs and furniture up to the present added, the cost is $746,468 24. The unfinished New-York Court-house has cost already sixteen times as much. Wood-work charged at more than two million dollars, is not worth more than thirty thousand dollars. Furniture charged at a million and a half is not worth twenty-five thousand dollars. Carpets, shades and curtains now charged at $676,194 40, there is not a curtain in the building, and the carpets and shades cannot have cost seventeen thousand dollars. Plastering, charged at over a million eight hundred thousand dollars, could not have cost thirty-five thousand dollars. Accounts for rent, stationery, printing and other things, are hardly less astounding.

Such are the accounts audited by TWEED, HALL and CONNOLLY, sitting sometimes at night, and sometimes without others, over six millions having been passed at a single sitting; the money was paid on the signature of Mayor HALL. Does any man believe that those who presented these preposterous demands actually received the money, and were permitted to keep it?

WHAT HAS BECOME OF THE MONEY?

No one believes it. Then what became of these and other yet vaster sums? See what the Albany Argus, the Democratic State paper, says. Here are its words:

"A Bedlam editor recently went through the New-York Court-house, and asked, where is all this plaster, ing, all this furniture? We can tell him. The hands of Bedlam politicians at Albany had to be plastered constantly before the New-York Tax Levy could become a law. To and many, a band of Gilt Leaves, sixty thousand dollars had to be paid; to another, a white neck-clothed scoundrel from Madison, a sum nearly as great. Garvey's gigantic sinecure walls and partitions. Jones is the agent of the Bedlam Regents's furniture dealer respectable mansions in the interior, and the neighbors wonder how the wealth and taste of the owner was so suddenly developed.

Does any one suppose that the old Republican firm of plumbers, the Leaches, were let off with trimmings a New-York Court-house? No: their lead pipe ran into Herkimer, and tapped the politics of Montgomery. Indeed, the sewerage of Cayuga and Chautauqua, it is believed, found their machinery and equipment at this good old Radical establishment!"

Is this true? The Argus is the organ of a great party, and is conducted by men of judgment, who live at the capital and seem to speak from personal knowledge. Shall it not be investigated? Who shall investigate? The honest men on both sides in the City are moving, and never was there a more righteous indignation since the money changers were scourged from the temple. But citizen committees alone cannot go to the bottom of all this—the Legislature is needed, and hence I conjure you to ponder the gravity of this election. With a Democratic Legislature, with Democratic State officers re-elected, investigate and avenge these wrongs! Will the Democratic Attorney-General, who for two years has sat with these men, and who has just been renominated by them over CHARLES O'CONOR, investigate them? Will any man investigate who holds place from a party whose State Convention has just succumbed to TWEED and recognized Tammany Hall as the regular and only Democratic organization in the City of New-York? Remember the infamies of last Winter—the rebuke of the Registry bills! Two per Cent. act, and the other acts of that cluster, smoked enough to load their authors with opprobrium which the waters of forgetfulness will roll over in vain. Every Democrat voted for these bills; but one Republican fell, and his fall would have injured no one but himself had not the Executive veto intervened, when the Executive hand might have branded the hole proof. Is it for this that the Tammany Convention at Rochester has just indorsed the Governor in the most swelling phrases, commending him especially for the way he has managed the veto power!

TWO PER CENT. ACT.

While Gov. HOFFMAN meditated on the Two per Cent. bill, America and England presented strangely different spectacles. The Two per Cent. bill empowered Mr. OAKEY HALL, Mr. RICHARD CONNOLLY, Mr. WM. M. TWEED and Mr. PETER B. SWEENEY, to take tribute of the people of New-York not exceeding two per cent of their property—that is, to take upward of twenty-one million dollars upon their own ipse dixit, to do with it what they chose, consulting no one and accountable to no one. While this scheme was maturing, Mr. LOWE, the Chancellor of the British Exchequer, made up his budget. It was unusually large, almost as large as just after the battle of Waterloo. It was hard to find the requisite ways and means, and the expedient was hit upon of imposing a tax of one per cent. a box on friezon matches. The spirit which sent the Barons to Runnymead still makes Englishmen jealous of their rights, and the one cent tax on matches met a protest so stubborn and vehement that the Government was compelled promptly to withdraw it, and the withdrawal took place almost simultaneously with the emission from the Executive Chamber at Albany of a Tax bill, more despotic than modern England ever knew.

SECTARIAN APPROPRIATIONS.

This same act contains provisions touching sectarian appropriations which display a genius rare, if not solitary of its kind. The Democratic Party had pledged itself that no more sectarian appropriations should be made, and in this act is the redemption of the pledge. Section 6 provides that it shall not be lawful to "appropriate or apply any portion of the tax herein authorized to be raised in aid of any private or sectarian school, or other institution or enterprise that is under the control of any religious denomination, or to borrow any money on the faith or credit of the City, to be applied to any such purpose," &c. This seems plain and straightforward so far, but later in the section, which is a long one, will be found these words, "nor shall said restriction prevent appropriations in aid of the following charities," and then follow forty names, sixty-seven different "institutions and enterprises," most of them of the kind in question. This seems like going up one step and falling down two, and it looked to me quite ingenious stopping here, and I thought I saw the whole of it. But in reading on, I found how little was my conception of the versatility of our rulers. All the end of this virrow of sixty-seven beneficiaries, occur these quiet little words, "and the other institutions and societies now provided for by law, in regard to which said Board (that is HALL, CONNOLLY, TWEED and SWEENEY) may apportion such amounts respectively as they may, with reference to other appropriations, deem practicable!" Lord CHESTERFIELD said but one man ever saw through a mill-stone, and he saw through the hole. The hole here is "not as wide as a churchdoor, nor as deep as a well, but it is enough."

TAMMANY AT THE ROCHESTER CONVENTION.

These are some of the footprints of Tammany legislation, and in spite of all its crimes against honesty, in spite of all its abominable, crimson iniquity, in spite of its having plundered the community, and then laughed in its face, Tammany Hall yet rules the Democratic Party. Tattooed from head to foot with accusations underied, blistered and branded with confessed betrayals of public trust that incarnation of political and official sin, but unawed and unabashed, these astute managers went to Rochester and met the State Convention and it was theirs. They demanded to be recognized not only as Democrats, but as the only regular. Simeon pure Democratic organization in the City of New-York. Think of it, and think of the reception they met with. The State Committee voted three to one that they were the only regular Democratic organization; and thus [illegible] the action next adopted the [illegible] a communication which all remain mere [illegible] chance of the Democracy, after [illegible] to their purity and regularity, they [illegible] that their course will be sustained by [illegible] for "the triumph of the cause of constitutional government!" DICKENS would have said, "here's richness for you." They next refer to their demand that the character made against them by the opposition Press shall be investigated, and then they waive participation in the Convention, thinking their so doing "may promote the success of regular Democratic tickets, State and local." Mark that. There is meaning in it. Upon this, the Convention resolved that in the absence of Tammany, no delegation from New-York could sit in the Convention, and the delegation headed by CHARLES O'CONOR was not allowed to go even before the Committee on Contested Seats. Do you see the effect of all this? Tammany, clothed in fresh orthodoxy, embodies the whole party on Manhattan Island, where twenty-one majorities of assembly and six Senators are to be nominated, and these are the local tickets there. Tweed is already renominated for the Senate, and he and his confederates are to nominate all the rest under the imprimatur of the State Convention. In Kings County, and throughout the State, Tammany ratifications, so far from being scouted, is to be courted and deferred to. Add to this the nomination of the State ticket wanted by Tammany, and once counted in by Tammany, and no triumph could be more complete. The Convention did that which Mr. O'CONOR, in his remarkable letter, warned them would inflict an insurable wound upon the Democracy. It is well that it is so, for all sinister work now done will have to be reached as all this yeast, it must be reached through the Republican Party. So far I have spoken of work for the Legislature, but I referred to the State officers to be chosen—to the Canal and Prison Boards.

DEMOCRATIC EXTRAVAGANCE IN THE STATE.

Extravagance of expenditure is not confined to the municipal affairs of New-York. You find it everywhere in Democratic management.

EXECUTIVE OFFICES AT ALBANY.

Take the expenses of the executive offices in Albany, and compare a Republican with a Democratic year:

In 1865 (Republican) these expenses were	$476,882 82
In 1870 (Democratic) same items were	822,472 28
Excess	$345,579 46

CANALS.

Take the expenses of the canals:

Expenses 1865, Republican management	$1,510,166 75
Expenses 1870, Democratic management	3,686,442 50
Excess	$2,176,275 75

The difference is not explained by the superior condition of the canals at one time over another. Official reports prove the contrary. I say nothing now about the loss of revenue under Democratic management—that raises the question of high tolls and low tolls, which is a wholly different matter. The canals can be honestly administered, whether the tolls be higher or lower, and the Republican Party warns no war upon cheap and honest transportation, as the advocate of it everywhere and at all ways.

PRISONS.

Look at the management of the three prisons of the State, and see if you can escape the conclusion that extravagance goes with the Democracy even into prison. Here is a statement, dry in detail, but worth some study:

Prison Management under the Republican Party, and under the Democratic Party, Contrasted.

Earnings and expenses of Auburn Prison, for years ending September 30, 1862 and 1868. Republican administration. (The years 1862 and 1863, are taken as four average years.)

Expenditures for same	255,215 97
Loss in two years	$83,767 74

Democratic, for years 1869 and 1870.

Earnings for above two years, including amounts due earnings	$394,186 26
Expenditures	741,394 26
Loss in two years	$347,208 34

This statement includes as earnings the amounts deposited together with amounts claimed to be due at the end of the years. This is favorable to those responsible, and the report does not blend items arising under contracts, with those pertaining to manufacturing for the State, that the accounts cannot be correctly given otherwise. These losses are in truth much larger than they appear, because of special and direct appropriations by the State for prison expenses, of which no note is made in the accounts.

Earnings and expenses of Clinton Prison for the years ending Sept. 30, 1862 and 1863, under Republican administration:

1862—Earnings	$41,146 62

In addition to this, the Legislature, in 1869, appropriated eighty thousand dollars for wood lands, which they are now consuming, as well as the ore from the State's lands, neither being included in the expenses.

Having gone over the record of the Democrats, till we have come to prisons, let us leave them there, while we go abroad in the land and see what account a Republican Administration can give of its stewardship. In his inaugural, President GRANT gave this pledge to the American people: "It will be my endeavor to execute all laws in good faith, to collect all revenues assessed, and to have them properly accounted for and economically disbursed." I begin by inquiring how this pledge has been kept, and we must compare the work with the work which preceded it.

COLLECTION OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

In 1865, under ANDREW JOHNSON, the internal revenue accounted for, was $191,180,864 25. Then the tax on spirits was $2 per gallon; the tax on tobacco was 40 cents per pound; the tax on cotton was two and a half and three cents per pound; and trades, professions, and almost every visible object, was taxed. When the present Administration—a new tax bill came in. The tax on spirits was reduced from $2 to 50 cents per gallon; the tax on tobacco from 40 cents to 32 cents and 16 cents; and cotton, iron, books and shoes, clothing, furniture, leather, machinery, and many and more than one hundred other articles, were made wholly free.

The reduction amounted to	$76,000,000
On the reduced basis, the internal revenue accounted for during the first twelve months of President Grant was	$177,497,728 29
During the first fiscal year it was	184,265,567 97
In 1869, spirits at $2 per gallon yielded for the fiscal year	33,000,000 00
In Grant's first fiscal year, at 50 cents, it yielded	33,000,000 00
Increase, despite reduction	$67,000,000 00
Tobacco, (chewing, &c.) at 40 cents, yielded annually	$18,000,000 00
Under Grant, at 32 cents, (average)	21,000,000 00
Increase, despite reduction	$13,000,000 00

Expenses of Collecting Internal Revenue.

1865, (under Johnson,) expenses of Internal Revenue Bureau	$6,397,702 17
First fiscal year of Grant	5,918,410 52
Saving	$479,283 65

Collection of Customs Revenue.

Since Gen. Grant came in, the reduction of the tariff duties has been (per year)..... $25,826,400 00

In March, 1865, two years under Johnson, customs accounts collected for were..... 236,453,940 07

From March 1, 1869, to March 1, 1871, two years under Grant, they were..... 263,855,187 74

Net increase, despite reduction..... $35,402,227 67

If we add the amount dismissed by the New tariff, which (Jan. 1, 1871, one-quarter of a year, (Jan. 1, 1871, to March 1,) we have, beside the above, say..... 8,000,000 00

Making an increase of..... $43,402,227 67

REDUCTION OF TAXES.

Since 1865, Congress (usually against a solid vote of the Democratic members) has reduced taxes in all..... $231,946,527 23

Reduction during the Administration of President Grant is:

Internal taxes (annually)	$5,212,600 00
Tariff (annually)	29,336,400 00
Total	$34,738,400 00

Despite these reductions the increase of revenue accounted for under Gen. Grant over the same period preceding is..... $4,994,942 74

ALLEGED DEFALCATION OF INTERNAL REVENUE COLLECTORS.

I am reminded at this point of an allegation which needs to be put right. The Democratic Congressional address, issued in March last, asserts that twenty-five million dollars has been lost to the Government by defaulting collectors of internal revenue, and this charge has resounded through every recent canvass, East and West, as for the facts. Here is an official statement from the Secretary of the Treasury and the Controller of the Treasury, dated Aug. 15, 1871, giving the full particulars. From this it appears that on the 15th of August last, the account of debits against internal revenue collectors, beginning with 1861, the commencement of internal taxes was as follows:

Amounts due from collectors	$2,750,136 29
Amounts unadjusted	424,113 36
Aggregate of every kind	$3,174,338 73

Three million is not twenty-five million; but the three million is an aggregate and not a real default, only a small part of it is a blamable default. You are aware that the law requires collectors to report each month to the Treasury the full amount of the tax roll, and these full amounts are at once charged against the collector at the Treasury, and remain so charged till collected, or expunged as uncollectable. The assessor's tax rolls, continually contain taxes which can not be collected, and thus each collector has always more or less of them outstanding against him, which he is not to pay or be held responsible for, after he has done his duty in striving to collect them. When a collector dies, resigns, or goes out of office, large apparent balances stand against him and linger along on the books when in truth he owes nothing and has rendered up every cent. So much for the amount due from defaulting collectors. But who are these alleged defaulters? Who appointed them, that they should be laid at the door of the Republican Party? The total number of collectors against whom balances appear is 174. Of these Mr. LINCOLN appointed 86, Mr. JOHNSON appointed 83, and Gen. GRANT appointed 3. The balances appearing against them are as follows:

Against collectors appointed by Mr. Lincoln	$800,858 95
Against collectors appointed by Mr. Johnson	1,813,786 12
Against collectors appointed by Gen. Grant	64,551 76

This statement requires one qualification to make it exact and just. JOSHUA F. BAILEY was appointed by Mr. LINCOLN, but he was reappointed by Gen. GRANT and placed in the Thirty-second District of New-York, and his default related as well to his term of office under Mr. LINCOLN as to that under Gen. GRANT—the line between them cannot be drawn. Does this exhibit reflect discredit on the present Administration? It shows a thoroughness and rigor of official accountability without a parallel in American history. I have spoken of the integrity with which the revenue has been collected. May I ask your attention to the honesty and frugality with which it has been applied. Here, again, we must judge by comparisons:

Expenses of the National Government Contrasted.

From March 1, 1867, to March 1, 1869, two years under Johnson, total expense, account was	$460,043,739 17
From March 1, 1869, to March 1, 1871, two years under Grant, same account was	323,342,809 90
Decrease of expense	$136,700,949 31

Reduction of Debt Contrasted.

During the last two years of Mr. Johnson, with a much greater basis of taxation, the debt was reduced only..... $35,441,986 00

Under Gen. Grant, on reduced basis of taxation, up to Oct. 1, 1871, two years and seven months, amount of debt paid..... 254,796,319 63

Some one curious in arithmetic has been at the pains of working out the following results of figures, as they stood some time ago:

National Debt—Republican Management.

Debt, December, 1869	$2,453,589,726 22
Debt, May, 1871	2,308,575,543 00
Decrease in twenty-eight months	149,084,192 22
Decrease per month	4,355,578 79
Decrease per week	1,284,427 79
Decrease per day	170,427 90
Decrease per hour	7,392 17
Decrease per minute	121 54
Decrease per second	2 04½
Debt per head, 1869	64 57
Debt per head, 1871	54 00
Decrease per head	$10 00

New-York City Debt—Tammany Management.

Debt, December, 1869	$29,324,949 82
Debt, May, 1871	81,842,515 00
Increase in twenty-eight months	52,518,565 18
Increase per month	1,875,663 08
Increase per week	432,261 55
Increase per day	61,786 85
Increase per hour	2,574 44
Increase per minute	42 91
Increase per second	7 02⅝
Debt per head, 1869	32 58
Debt per head, 1871	86 15
Increase per head	$53 57

Since Gen. GRANT came in, month by month, as certain as the footfalls of time, so many millions have been lopped off from the debt the rebellion brought upon us. More than a million a month of interest has been wiped out forever, and the same Administration continued would pay the last farthing of principal in eighteen years. This is the debt which, only two years ago, the Democrats said could never be paid, and which their national Convention proposed to dishonor and virtually repudiate.

STANDING OF OUR SECURITIES.

In March, 1869, United States six per cent. gold bonds were thirteen per cent. below par in gold; in July, 1868, they were twenty per cent. below par. In March, 1871, they commanded a premium above par in gold. In March, 1869, gold stood at 135. In March, 1871, and since, gold ranges from 112 to 111, and bonds range higher. The capitalists of Europe eagerly seek our five per cents. now, so eagerly, that we will not sell them as many as they want, and this, with France in the market borrowing at great rates all she can pay hands on, and other borrowers competing with us, Two hundred million dollars six per cent. bonds have been called in, by placing the amount in five per cent. bonds, and this one transaction saves $24,000,000 net, even supposing these five per cents. are to be paid in ten years—if they run twenty years the saving will be $48,000,000. Compare all this with Tammany financial management. Nay, compare it with Democratic management wherever you can find it.

DEMOCRATIC MANAGEMENT ELSEWHERE.

Go to Kentucky. There supreme Democracy still holds high carnival. In the City of Louisville, for example, it has risen in ten years from $6 50 per capita to $17.

FURTHER REDUCTION OF TAXES.

So satisfactory is the balance sheet of the nation, that at the next session of Congress taxes and tariff will be still further largely reduced; forty million at least can be dismissed; and if our opponents think we have not gone fast enough in striking off taxes, it may quiet them to remember that had the Democratic Party submitted to the election of Mr. LINCOLN in 1861, there would be no taxes to reduce or to pay now. But one-half of the Democratic Party, with deep sympathy of the leaders of the other half, disputed that election by force and involved us in a great war, which burdened the land with taxes, and covered it with mourning. No statement of even the financial results of the national Administration, would be complete without referring to its Indian policy. In place of the Indian wars—better described as contractors' wars—which have heretofore reddened our frontier, we have had two years of peace on the borders, and a policy commendable alike for its humanity and its frugality.

THE SOUTH.

In the South, prosperity prevails, in so far as the executive Government can confer it. The blacks are prospering, and their agricultural societies and other institutions show them rapidly emerging from the degradation to which generations of servitude had reduced them. That much disquiet and demoralization should prevail at the close of a great rebellion which prostrated all civil government, is a thing of course. Disturbing elements are at work there. The old Democratic State rights element is as busy as a Saint Vitus dance. "The resolutions of '98" won't be still. INSURANCE DAVIS is loose, owing partly to his not being hanged, but not

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS.

Sales at the Stock Exchange—Oct. 11.

FIRST BOARD.

SECOND BOARD.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 11—P. M.

There is comparative calmness in the Wall-street markets today, as against the two days of fearful panic through which the Street passed following the Chicago calamity of Monday. Money continues very dear, however, to the Stock Brokers, and the restoration of confidence on the Stock Exchange is by no means rapid, interrupted by frequent and fitful reaction in prices. The losses since Monday morning have been enormous, and many of them irrecoverable because of the absolute necessities under which they were incurred. Others have been partially qualified, at a heavy cost, in the way of extra interest on Monday, by repurchases at low figures, or by throwing contracts a few days ahead. Business in the Railways and in Western Telegraph has again been heavy in amount. The fluctuations in prices through the day have been 1@2 ₱ cent., and at the close of the Afternoon Board it was difficult to surmise as to how the market would finally close into in the day. The quotations at 5½ P. M., as compared with Tuesday night, will be found below. The New-York Central Stock has withstood the pame better than the Western Roads, from the circumstance that there is less held, or else held in stronger hands, on the Street than in former panic seasons, like that, for example, of September, 1869. The Roads leading into and from St. Louis are profiting indirectly by the interruption of trade at Chicago. The Kansas Pacific and Missouri Pacific are busily employed in bringing Produce into that City, and the Toledo and Wabash line will no doubt soon be put to its utmost capacity in the business of transportation from St. Louis, and its Missouri and Illinois surroundings. East. This Road being a great feeder to the Lake Shore at Toledo, can do much to make up for the interruption on the Lake Shore Road between Chicago and Lake Erie. Some of the ablest managers of the Western Telegraph speak confidently of their Stock as a bargain at present prices, below 60 ₱ cent. The loss of the Company at Chicago was a trifle, while the additional business thrown upon the wires since the great fire is of the most active and profitable nature. The offerings to the Treasury today of United States 5-20s amounted to $10,810,000, and the Secretary of the Treasury promptly telegraphed to accept double the regular amount, being $4,000,000, advertised for. This gave the Street a Currency disbursement of about $4,500,000, which was a sensible relief to the Money market, enabling several leading houses to relend to their neighbors at living rates. Many of the brokers, however, continued, up to 3 o'clock, to pay 7 ₱ cent. Gold Interest and an extra daily commission for the use of Money to carry over their Stock engagements. The $4,000,000 5-20s were accepted from Messrs. JAY COOKE & Co., and Messrs. LEONARD, FOSTER & SHELDON at 111.75@111.77 ₱ cent. The subsequent open market for the Public Funds was not strong, owing to the pressure to sell United States 5-20s and Currency 6 ₱ cents, either by some of the Savings Banks and Insurance Offices in need of the Money, or by other holders for the purpose of using the proceeds to temporary advantage on the Stock Exchange during the panic. The buyers of 5-20s for Europe have taken considerable amounts. There are various buyers of Currency 6 ₱ cents at the decline of 1@2 ₱ cent. Of the Railway Mortgages, the Central Pacifics, (having a steady European market,) is less affected by the general depression than most others; and the old Western Currency Mortgages have not been urged on sale. The Tennessee and South Carolina State Bonds suffer in common with other Stocks heavily carried on the Street, at extra interest, and only a few of the Miscellaneous Shares find much of a market in seasons like the present. Most of the City Bank Stocks are steady, while the Fire Insurance Stocks are seldom dealt in at the Exchange, and no outside quotations are established.

The Gold market shows some weakness today on the free offering of Exchange at easier rates. London sixty days is 108½@108¾, and short sight 109½@109¾ ₱ cent. Bills are being made against the transmission of United States Five-twenties and some other Bonds, while the Export clearances of Domestic Produce from New-York afford this week about £1,000,000 sterling in Exchange. The sales of Gold have ranged, through the day, 114¾@114⅞ ₱ cent., and 114¾@114¾ the quotation at 4 o'clock P. M.

The pressure to borrow Money to carry over Stocks at the close of the day was much less marked than yesterday, and we heard of but few instances of extra commissions over 7 ₱ cent. Gold Interest. Railroad Stocks were turned at a difference of ½ ₱ cent. until to-morrow.

After the late Boards the following quotations were made, as compared with Tuesday night, the market closing with a comparatively steady feeling:

Our Banking-houses, like our Merchant Capitalists, have done nobly for the Chicago charity. Three leading Bankers in the Public Funds and Railway enterprises, Messrs. JAY COOKE & Co., FISK & HATCH and HENRY CLEWS & Co., have contributed each Ten Thousand dollars. Three other Bankers in the Foreign Exchanges, Messrs. BELMONT, BROWNING and DUNCAN, contribute each Five Thousand dollars. Messrs. J. S. MORGAN, (London,) DREXEL, MORGAN & Co., New-York, and DREXEL & Co., of Philadelphia, contribute together Fifteen Thousand dollars. All credit is due also to the Stock Exchange for its munificent contribution of Fifty Thousand dollars. The North British Fire Insurance Company, after losing heavily by the fire, have contributed Five Thousand dollars to the Relief Fund.

The earnings of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain Railroad for the fourth week in September were:

1871	$92,220
1870	76,316
Increase	$16,216

During the month of September:

1871	$141,169
1870	104,124

The attention of the Stock-holders of the Hamilton and St. Joseph Road is called to the notice of Messrs. VAN SCHAICK & Co. in our advertising columns.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

☞ FIRST MORTGAGE SINKING FUND LAND-GRANT BONDS

OF THE

ST. JOSEPH AND DENVER CITY RAILROAD COMPANY,

IN DENOMINATIONS OF $1,000, $500, AND $100, can now be had from the undersigned or through the principal banks and bankers of the United States. The attention of investors is invited to the merits of these bonds, secured by a first and only mortgage on the road, equipments, franchises, and property of a trunk line of railroad which will shorten the distance between New-York and San Francisco some 250 miles, and in addition the mortgage to secure the bonds covers a land-grant of 1,000,000 acres of the most fertile land in the West, which is prohibited from being sold at less than four ($4) dollars per acre by the terms of the mortgage deed, and according to the present market price of the Illinois Central Company's lands is worth $12,750,000. This loan was originally for $5,500,000, but has been largely reduced by subscriptions of actual investors. The remaining balance of the loan is offered at 97½ and accrued interest, but the right is reserved to advance the price at any time, without notice.

The bonds have thirty years to run; bear 8 per cent. interest, payable in New-York, London or Frankfort-on-the-Main, at the option of the holder, without notice, free of taxes. BOTH PRINCIPAL AND INTEREST ARE PAYABLE IN GOLD. They are Coupon Bonds, but can be registered with the coupons on, or can be registered with the coupons off, and interest paid to registered owner. Interest payable Aug. 15 and Feb. 15. A liberal sinking fund, formed from the entire land sales, in payment for which the bonds will be received at par and accrued interest, provides for the early extinguishment of this loan.

Trustees—Farmers' Loan and Trust Company.

These bonds offer favorable inducements to parties desiring to fund their Five-Twenties or other high-priced securities.

In converting Five-Twenties the investors realize 17 per cent. profit on the principal; 2 per cent. per annum excess of interest; and at the same time get a perfect security.

Maps, circulars, documents, and full information furnished on application.

Though acting as agents for the sale of this loan, our firm buy and sell in their regular business the bonds of the St. Joseph and Denver City Railroad Company, those of the Eastern Division being now quoted at 103 and accrued interest. These were originally placed by us at 97½.

☞ THE WEST WISCONSIN RAILWAY is now very nearly finished, and trains will be running through from Tomah to St. Paul by Nov. 1. The earnings of the Road from local traffic on the completed portion constitute already a profitable business; and arrangements and connections are about perfected which will make it the Great Air-Line Route from Chicago to the North-west, effecting a saving of more than 100 miles over the present route. The Bonds are a First Mortgage on the road itself and on a valuable Land Grant of 1,000,000 acres. They bear interest in gold at the rate of 7 per cent. per annum, and are sold now at 90 and accrued interest in currency by WHITE, MORRIS & CO., No. 15 Wall-st., and GWYNNE, JOHNSON & DAY, No. 10 Wall-st., where pamphlets and further information may be obtained.

☞ EIGHT PER CENT. GOLD BONDS.—First mortgage on the Montgomery and Eufaula Railroad, and indorsed by the State of Alabama. The road has but two or three miles to finish. Limited to $16,000 per mile of finished road. A good road, a safe bond and a good guarantee. We offer them at 95 and interest.

FLOUR AND MEAL—State and Western Flour have been depressed and declining since our last. Stocks have been offered with more freedom, particularly of other than desirable shipping extras. The demand has been very moderate, and the bids for round lots have been, as a rule, considerably below the views of holders. Sales for the week have been reported since our last of 9,400 bbls., all told, including very inferior to very choice Superfine State and Western at $5 25@$5 75; inferior to very good Extra State at $6 00@$6 75; fair to very good Extra Western at $5 85@$6 25; poor to very good shipping brands round-hoop Extra Ohio, $7 15@$7 50; bbl. southern Flour has been in fair demand, but rates have ruled with sales since our last of 750 bbls. at $7 30@$8 75 for ordinary to very good and $8 15@$10 25 for very good to very choice extra. ₱ bbl. Rye Flour has been in less request at $4 60@$5 60 ₱ bbl; sales 250 bbls. Corn-meal has been in moderate request at $3 30@$3 90 for White and Yellow Western, $3 30@$3 75 for Jersey, $3 25@$3 50 for Marsh's Calorie, and $4 20@$4 50 for Brandywine, ₱ bbl.; sales 600 bbls.

GREATER—Has been offered more freely and quoted toward the close 2c. ₱ bushel lower, on a less confident demand, particularly for export, the rise in Gold having checked shipments somewhat materially. Sales have been reported since our last of 147,000 bushels, all told, including White Western at $1 32@$1 36, chiefly at $1 35@$1 36 for good to choice; prime; Red and Amber Western at $1 27@$1 34, closing at $1 27@$1 28 for inferior to fair; $1 30@$1 32 for good to prime; Red and Amber Canada at $1 34@$1 36; No. 1 Spring, reported at $1 36@$1 37; No. 2 Spring, $1 29@$1 30; and extra Milwaukee, also closing weak, at about $1 35@$1 37 for ordinary to choice; choice Milwaukee; White Genesee, $1 36@$1 37; Red and Amber do. at $1 32@$1 ₱ bushel.... Corn has been less easily sought after by the trade and by shippers, as well as by speculative buyers; and toward the close prices were quoted lower, and weak. Sales have been reported since our last of 181,000 bushels at 80c.@81c., closing heavily at 80c. for New Mixed Western, afloat; 80c.@81c. for New Mixed Western, delivered at 81c. for ordinary to choice Chicago; 81c. for Western, in store.... Rye quiet, but held firmly.... Barley depressed and drooping, on a greater free offering and moderate inquiry. Sales 12,000 bushels Canada West, delivered in New-York, at 90c.@$1.... Barley Malt dull at essentially unaltered rates.... Oats have been in fair demand and firmer, though closing tamely. Sales have been reported since our last of 71,000 bushels, all told, including 32½c.@33½c. for New Mixed, Western afloat here; 33c.@33c. for New Black; 32½c.@32½c. for State; 33c.@33½c. for ordinary to choice New White Western and White Ohio. NAVAL STORES—Rosins have been in moderate demand and steady. Spirits Turpentine has ruled quiet and steady at 39½c. ₱ gal. for Crude, 40c. for Crude Virgin, and 41c. for Crude Gum. Sales of Crude Turpentine, 100 bbls.; of Gum, 100 bbls. Washington were sold at 35 12½ ₱ bbl.; and of Spirits Turpentine, 150 bbls. at 40c. 67½c., part in transit. Rosins are firm at $2 65@$3 10 ₱ bbl. for No. 2 to No. 1, and $3 15@$3 20 for Pale. Tar, 100 bbls. PETROLEUM—Refined quiet and weak; sales here, 1,600 bbls. November delivery at 36c., which was the nominal quotation for prompt. At Philadelphia, general favorable advices from the interior, and a moderate demand, have led but little local trade to depend upon for several years after construction. But the Peoria and Rock Island Railway is a first class COMPLETED road, with NO PARALLEL or COMPETING LINE, and RUNS THROUGH ONE OF THE RICHEST AGRICULTURAL, MANUFACTURING AND MOST POPULOUS DISTRICTS IN THE WEST. That it is certain that the local business is already more than enough to sustain the road, while the through traffic is unlimited, as its connections are numerous, which can be seen by a glance at the map.

This road is a grand central line, to which many of the principal lines centralize and diverge to all parts of the continent.

We invite the attention of investors to this loan. Being familiar with the wealth and resources of the country along the line of this railway and A MEMBER OF OUR FIRM HAVING MADE A PERSONAL EXAMINATION OF THE ROAD AND PROPERTY, WE CAN WITH THE GREATEST CONFIDENCE RECOMMEND THE BONDS AS A PRIME SECURITY, reliable and safe in every particular.

All marketable securities received in exchange at full rates, and bonds delivered to all parts of the country, free of express charges.

Maps, circulars, &c., with full particulars relating to the road, furnished on application by the undersigned, Financial Agents of the Company.

FREIGHTS—The market has been quoted stronger in the line of berth freighting, decidedly so for Grain, by steam, with a fair show of business reported, the chartering list, however, show the rates ruling below the views of owners, for Grain and Petroleum vessels, which were in most request. Some call noted for vessels for the Cotton trade and for general cargo. For Liverpool, the vessel engagements reported were 1,600 bales Cotton at ⅛d. 26-32d., by sail, and 7-16d. @ ½d., by steam, ₱ lb.; 91,800 bushels Grain, by sail, at 6d. 6½d., closing at 6d.; 50,000 bushels Grain, by steam, closing at 6d. for Corn, 6d. for Oats, and at 6¼d. for Wheat, with even higher figures claimed for Rice. Tallow, by sail, at 32s.; 1,000 barrels Cheese, by steam, on private terms; also, a British ship of 700 tons, placed, a day or two since, on the North Continental coast, and a British ship of 648 tons, now at Boston,) with a full cargo of Cotton from Savannah, at ⅝d.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The latest reports from Chicago show that order has been partially restored; that several of the banks have commenced business, and that preparations are being made to ship the unburnt grain eastward. In the meantime, notice has been taken in almost every town in the country for their assistance, and such an amount of provisions has already been sent that the Mayor has requested that it may be delayed for the present. The losses to the insurance companies prove to be very severe, particularly in this place, Boston, and Hartford, several companies in each place having suspended payment until the extent of their liabilities can be estimated.

The returns from Ohio continue to show Republican gains, and a majority of 25,000 on the State ticket is claimed, while the Legislature, on a joint ballot, is estimated to be Republican by from 12 to 15. The returns from Pennsylvania come in slowly. Complete returns from Philadelphia give the Republican State ticket 19,918 majority. No returns were received from Iowa up to a late hour last night.

Senator CONKLING last night addressed a mass-meeting of Republicans in Tweddle Hall, Albany, speaking three hours. At the close of the meeting the Senator was serenaded at the Delevan House, and made another speech of some length on the Convention and its action on the New-York controversy.

The Bishops assembled at the Episcopalian Convention at Baltimore yesterday addressed a circular to the Churches throughout the country, suggesting that upon next Sunday they should take up a collection for the aid of the sufferers by the Chicago fire. The remaining portion of the day was consumed in receiving reports from Committees.

Several workmen arrested in Paris are said to be active members of the International Society, and to have been in co-operation with the Paris Commune. The German Emperor will open Parliament in person. BENNEDETTI, of the famous Ems interview, has published a book called My Mission. Señor RICONDA has been elected Vice-President of the lower branch of the Spanish Cortes. The Spanish War Office contemplates sending a division of the Spanish Army to protect the interests of Spain threatened by the conflict between the Sultan and the Kabyles. A treaty regulating Consular relations and guaranteeing trade-marks, is about to be concluded between North Germany, Great Britain and the United States. Small-pox is increasing in Belfast, Ireland. The London Police, on Tuesday night, made a raid on "betting houses."

The Grand Lodge of Good Templars of the State of New-Jersey met at Red Bank, in Convention, yesterday morning. About 175 delegates are in attendance.

Gov. BROWN, of Missouri, has issued a proclamation, calling out the militia in Dunklin and Stoddard Counties for the suppression of the Ku-klux.

The Custom-house officers at Boston, have seized a cargo of tobacco, valued at $150,000, belonging to SAMUEL A. WAY. It was entered 20,000 pounds less than the actual weight, and a heavy damage allowance was obtained. The Government would have lost $15,000.

Hon. WILLIAM H. SEWARD passed through Syracuse last evening, en route to his home in Auburn. A committee of the citizens of Auburn met him at Syracuse.

Seventeen policemen have been arrested in Philadelphia for obstructing the polls in the recent election, and are held for examination.

The following yachts got under weigh at Newport, R. I., yesterday morning, bound to New-York: Sappho, Enchantress, Dreadnaught, Wanderer, Fulmer, Magic, Dauntless, Rascal, and Vesta.

The United States steamer Nantasket arrived at St. Juan de Cuba Sept. 30, from Semana, and left next day for Guantanamo. The Spanish war steamer Francisco de Borgia went to the assistance of the French gun-boat Renard, ashore at Bahia de Cayos, San Domingo, and found her to be a total wreck. The crew were saved.

The Mayor of Milwaukee, Wis., has been telegraphed that several towns in the lumber district of Green Bay have been burned. Pushtogo village and Suxarbush settlement were destroyed by fire on Sunday night and Monday. It is reported that upward of 200 persons perished in the flames. Menominee is reported safe. Only one mill (HILGARD'S) was burned.

JOSEPH ADAMS was shot dead in a street row in Philadelphia yesterday afternoon, by Policeman MIKE MCGLOCKLIN.

Many people hoped that the long contest against the Ring was nearly ended. In reality it was never in a much more critical state—for the reformers—than at this moment. The Tweed gang are determined to recover possession of the Controller's office before election day, so that they may be able to put their repeaters on the polls, and "rake" in the money. This move will be successful unless public opinion makes itself essentially felt. The pretense is to "get rid" of CONNOLLY—who is already got rid of, to all good purposes; the real object is to turn Mr. ANDREW H. GREEN out of the Controller's office. Mr. GREEN is striking the Tammany dummies off the rolls every day. HALL and his friends want to put them on again. The Herald is preparing the way for this conspiracy, and it may be put in action at any moment. The danger is serious, for to be driven back now is to lose the battle. Let Mr. GREEN be trampled down, and all is lost—at least for the time. Our warning is not given a day too soon. We earnestly call upon the Committee of Seventy, and the public generally, to be guided by it.

Shall We Surrender All We Have Gained?

Yesterday the Herald pursued its usual line of endeavoring to bolster up A. OAKEY HALL and SWEENY—thus presenting one more instance of the fidelity of its friendships, and its contempt for truth. The general argument is this: The TIMES is a "partisan" paper; the Herald is your only true reformer; OAKEY HALL is an angel, and CONNOLLY is t'other thing; put your faith in OAKEY HALL, friend and adviser of the Herald, and he will pull you through. As a proof of the sincerity of the Herald in the work of reform we may mention, what some cause or other (it could not have been its modesty,) induced it to pass over, namely: That the Herald has deliberately suppressed all tidings of the discoveries which have been made of Ring frauds; suppressed the fraudulent warrants; suppressed every word and every fact which told against its beloved friend, OAKEY HALL. It tries to complete its work now by carrying out HALL'S programme of striking at ANDREW H. GREEN through Mr. CONNOLLY.

Any one must have watched the progress of this contest to little purpose who does not perceive with half an eye that every blow aimed at CONNOLLY just now is really struck at ANDREW H. GREEN. For CONNOLLY is practically a dead man in the fight—he obstructs nothing, hinders nothing. We wish TWEED, SWEENY and HALL counted for as little as he does. All CONNOLLY'S papers and books are in the hands of ANDREW H. GREEN, by whom they are freely turned over to the representatives of the Press, or to any other persons who wish to see them. There are no longer any secrets in the Controller's office. Because of that very fact—because Mr. GREEN is turning the full light of day upon all the secrets of the Ring's mismanagement and frauds, he is to be got out of the way. But he cannot be removed except by the removal of CONNOLLY. Hence the loud cries of the Herald for the arrest of CONNOLLY. It is so horribly virtuous that it cannot bear to see CONNOLLY alive. What it all means is, "Chop off the head of ANDREW H. GREEN," and it is the last squeal of OAKEY HALL in his distress. The dodge is "too thin;" as they say, to deceive any man who is capable of seeing an inch before his nose; but OAKEY HALL'S faith in the combined stupidity and vis inertiæ of the public is unlimited, and he fully believes that they can be imposed upon by this latest effort of his genius.

If Mr. GREEN is thrust out of the Controller's office, good-bye to all hopes of reform! TWEED, HALL and SWEENY will have cause to rejoice at having slipped through the fingers of justice, and a duped community will find small satisfaction, when they are called upon to pay more taxes to sustain a rule of thieves, in the contemptuous assurances of the Herald that it is "all right."

Senator Conkling's Speech.

The able and suggestive speech delivered in Albany last evening by Hon. ROSCOE CONKLING, a full report of which will be found in our columns, supplies a full and complete text for Republican argument and oratory in the coming campaign against the corrupt Democracy. The general distribution of this speech among the honest masses of reading and thinking men in the State, ought of itself to insure the triumph of the Republican Party in the coming election. Senator CONKLING is one of the few statesmen of the country who never address their fellow-citizens unless they have something to say. Though among the most brilliant of our public speakers, he never contents himself or deludes his hearers with the mere tinsel of oratory and rhetoric, or indulges in random assertions without proof; but presents facts and figures to substantiate all his statements. In his speech last evening he reviews the whole ground of the present contest between the two parties in City, State, and National politics, and leaves no room for doubt as to which party should receive the support of honest citizens, whose only object is to promote the best interests of their country, their State, and their individual locality.

The random charges of fraud and defalcation in the Federal Administration that have been made by the Democracy, to counteract the effect of the enormous frauds and robberies of their party leaders in this City, are subjected to a thorough examination in this speech, and shown to be utterly without foundation. Take, for instance, the long address of the Democratic Congressmen, issued last Spring, alleged that twenty-five millions of dollars had been lost to the Government by defaulting Collectors of Internal Revenue. Senator CONKLING shows, from the official statement of the Secretary of the Treasury, that the total amount of arrears due to the Government, from all the revenue collectors in the United States who ever held office is only three millions of dollars, and that the greater part of this three millions is still due from tax-payers to the collectors, and was not collected and squandered by them. The truth is, as Senator CONKLING says, that the collection of the public revenues under Gen. GRANT'S administration "shows a thoroughness and vigor of official accountability without a parallel in American history." The contrast between the economy and fidelity of the National Administration, and the fraud and misrule of the Democracy in this City, where the party has full sway, is very pointedly set forth by a comparison of expenditures in Washington and New-York, made by the Secretary of the Interior. Among other things the Secretary knows that more money was paid for repairs, carpets and furniture for County offices, in this City, than the entire cost of mail transportation throughout the United States, and nearly three times as much as the whole diplomatic expenses of the National Government for two years past. The extravagance, wastefulness, and general mismanagement of our Canals and State Prisons, since the Democratic Party came into power, are also fully exposed in Mr. CONKLING'S speech, and the address concludes with a complete vindication of the President of the United States from the petty, puerile, and malicious attacks of his political opponents and personal enemies.

We urge upon every Republican and upon every citizen, whatever may be his politics, who desires to learn the truth, to give this speech a careful perusal. Honest Democrats will find much in it which they ought to know, but which they will look for in vain in their partisan journals. In the present crisis—when they find their party managers in State Convention still clinging to Tammany Hall Democracy, which has already brought such disasters upon their party in Pennsylvania, Ohio and California—it becomes them to consider whether party fealty requires that they should continue to act with men who are bringing the very name of Democracy into contempt. Senator CONKLING deserves the thanks of all intelligent men for the speech with which he has opened the campaign; and if the few envious Republicans who are so fond of depreciating his services to the party, in order that his supposed "rival" may shine forth more conspicuously, will now induce their favorite to enter the canvass with the same promptness and energy, and with half Mr. CONKLING'S zeal and ability, they will show the sincerity of their Republicanism, and insure the triumph of their party in this State beyond peradventure.

Room in All.

The calamity that has fallen upon Chicago became at once a signal occasion for illustrating one of the most marked characteristics of our modern civilization—the sense of interdependence and the acknowledgment of the duty of mutual help. This is now so universally admitted throughout civilized christendom, and the emotion from which it springs seems to us all so "natural," as we say, that we generally take it for granted that this sense of brotherhood, of a general community of interest, and of a consequent moral obligation to help our neighbor who is in trouble, is spontaneous in the human heart. But the facts are quite to the contrary. In ancient times, and even in remoter modern days, the inhabitants of one great city hated and strove against those of another, and even petty towns so small that a patriotic man might refuse, as PLUTARCH did, to emigrate, lest the population of his native place should be thereby sensibly lessened, made mimic war upon each other—mimic, however, only in its proportions, for it was bloody and relentless in direct ratio to the pettiness of the antagonists. In fact, municipal jealousy and envy, with their legitimate offspring, hatred and strife, are very considerable elements in all history, down to the beginning of the seventeenth century. The free republics of Italy were but cities with their immediately surrounding country—so to speak, their suburbs; their spirit of government being purely municipal; and the jealousy, enmity and strife between these is embodied in immortal poem and story. DANTE'S Inferno bears eternal witness to the fiendish and undying hatred born of these civic rivalries.

This municipal jealousy has happily all passed away. We are reminded that we are the children of the past, even in this respect, only at rare intervals, by a Philadelphia paper's peevish dissatisfaction with the consequences of the current of rivers and the ebb and flow of the tide. But this aside, every city and village seems now to feel that it has a direct interest in the well-being of every other. Trade has taught us this, it may be said. Well, trade has taught, or has been the means of teaching, us something in this respect; and let it have full credit for opening the world's eyes to the truth that the relation of buyer and seller, debtor and creditor, is one not of antagonism, but of mutual dependence, and that each, from motives of the purest selfishness, should be willing to make some sacrifice for the comfort and welfare of the other. But our modern feeling goes far beyond this, and not only so, it has a higher source, a purer origin. It springs from what the author of Ecce Homo has well called "the enthusiasm of humanity." It is the product of Christianity almost without alloy. New-York may have a great interest in the prosperity of Chicago; but that of St. Louis, for instance, is comparatively small and indirect, and when that city responds promptly and generously to the call for the immediate relief of her fire-plagued sister—when the President of a London Insurance Company telegraphs to pay all losses promptly, and to subscribe five thousand dollars for the relief of the sufferers, something other, and greater, and better than mere self-interest is at the bottom of such benefaction. It is a grand proof of the diffusion and acceptance of the doctrine conveyed in the question, "Which now of these three thinkest thou was neighbor to him that fell among the thieves?" Our modern means of locomotion and communication, and our intimate acquaintance with the habits, needs, prosperity and suffering of places that a century ago would have been as remote to us as Lapland, and almost as foreign, have kept pace with the moral progress which leads us to stretch the bounds of neighborhood even beyond the limits of nationality almost around the world.

In this constantly widening and deepening of the sentiment of humanity there is great hope, we may say the greatest hope, for the future of mankind. We often hear from the short-sighted the voice of despair, crying, Wherein are we better than those who have gone before us? To what good end is all our preaching and our teaching? Our prosperity and our knowledge are only aids to greater iniquity. But this is not true. On the contrary, nothing is truer than that the moral tone, and we will say even the Christian spirit of the civilized world has risen during the last thousand years. The progress has not been steady. The flood that rose at one time receded at another; but it did not go back to the level whence it last came, and as its return it rose higher than before. The cruelties practiced in the name of God and of religion three hundred years ago are now impossible. There are men, indeed, who would gladly revive that form of impious piety; but the whole world now would not tolerate them, nor the men who were guilty of them; whereas the whole world in former times applauded and practiced them. And so it is true that the organized selfishness, the narrow pride and petty vanity, which passed in ancient days for patriotism, has been broken up and almost cast out of the human heart. Of this the attitude of all her so-called "rival" cities, and of the whole world, toward Chicago, is undeniable and cheering evidence. We have so often occasion to bear witness against evil—chiefly, however, in individuals—that it is a gratifying and cheering, and so a wholesome task, to reflect upon the evidence of human advancement brought out by so great a calamity.

Hall's Six Excuses for the City Frauds.

People who are disposed to put any faith in Mayor HALL'S latest invention for getting out of his trouble, had better read the excuses he has previously put forward:

I. July 29. The claims were audited by the old Board of Supervisors or other Boards of Audit, and no claims have been paid without such statutory audit.

II. The claims were large and may have been exhorbitant, but the warrants were signed and countersigned as simply ministerial acts. I take my full share of the responsibility.

III. July 30. The coming report will, beyond question, vindicate Mr. Connolly and those associated with him.

IV. Aug. 12. In the disclosures of the Times there is not one grain of positive accusation.

V. Sept. 11. On oath he specifically denies that the warrants were to any extent fraudulent on their face.

VI. Oct. 10. The warrants were never signed by me at all. My signatures to them were forged.

Are these different excuses reconcilable with each other? Is the man who can twist and wriggle about in this style worthy of any further belief?

The Lesson of the Elections.

The "October elections" have this year disappointed no one. The Republicans expected to win, and the Democrats to lose. Each party had ample reason to know its ground some days before the elections were held, and the work of the Republicans for the last fortnight, at least, has been that of men confident of victory, while the Democrats have been driven to desperation. The result is that the Republican victory is decided, and the conduct of the Democrats under defeat characteristically shameful. The Republican majority in Pennsylvania is not less solid and satisfactory than when Gen. GRANT was elected in 1868, while the attempted intimidation and actual fraud on the part of the Democrats in Philadelphia are unrivaled.

The details of the victory in Ohio and Iowa are not very full. Enough is known, however, to make sure that it is substantial in Ohio, with no reason to doubt thorough success in Iowa.

In all three of the States the result may be regarded as a vote of confidence in the Republican Party, and an utter condemnation of the political thimble-rigging of the Democracy. So far as the Democracy dared express itself at all, it made, in its platforms, no well-defined issue with its opponents. It simply denounced the Republicans as untrue to the principles of the constitution, and untrustworthy in point of honesty and capacity, and demanded to be intrusted with power on the ground that it would use it more faithfully and wisely for the same ends. In Ohio, the new departure was the main feature of the campaign, which means simply that the Democrats claimed to be more capable of preserving to the people the fruits of the war than the party which substantially fought the war. The people denied the claim. In Pennsylvania, the Democracy professed protectionist principles, and actually endeavored to frighten the protection interests in that State with the idea that the Republicans were becoming demoralized with free-trade notions. In this the people saw only another evidence of unscrupulous trickery, and answered it with a majority nearly if not quite four times as large as in 1869. In Iowa, the Democrats claimed to be the Revenue Reformers par excellence, and made a desperate effort to depreciate the Republican professions, which were very pronounced in that direction. The attempt has been a failure. The significance of the elections lies in the fact that on varying issues of National, State, and Municipal Government, and with actually contradictory expressions by each of the parties in the different States, the verdict is decisively in favor of the Republican Party. This can be accounted for only by the superior general character of that organization. The people are distrustful of Democracy, whatever it may profess. They will seek whatever reforms they believe necessary in and through the Republican Party, which was the creation of progressive sentiment, and which has responded in the most trying times with admirable promptness and sincerity to the real wishes of the people.

The Emigrant Swindlers.

New-York has a variety of mean thieves, but surely the meanest are the harpies who live by preying on the emigrants. For years this line been an organized business, from which hundreds of scoundrels have derived a livelihood. Every device of rascality has been brought into play to fleece the unsuspecting and inexperienced stranger. Prominent among these has been what is called the "belt" game. Formerly the bogus ticket office did a thriving trade, but the conviction and punishment of MCDERMOTT discouraged the most enterprising of the ticket swindlers, and diverted their energies to safer channels. The belt game offered an admirable resource for unscrupulous ingenuity, and to that the thieving fraternity at once betook themselves. It is not, be it understood, the newly arrived emigrant who is usually the object of these costly attentions. He is looked after by the State Commission, and, generally speaking, it is only by the exercise of uncommon heedlessness or obstinacy that he contrives to come to grief. But when after a few years' sojourn in the country, he is going home on a visit, it may be, or to bring out his family, he becomes the favorite prey of the spoiler.

He has been here long enough to fancy himself thoroughly experienced, and to feel a certain fatal confidence. Yet the chances are that the entire period of his stay has been passed in some community of his countrymen at the West, with about as much opportunity of getting an insight into the wicked ways of City sharpers as in his little hamlet in Germany or Sweden. He comes here with his pocket full of money, the hard-earned savings of all these years, and he is lucky enough to meet a countryman who, by some felicitous chance, is also going home. They will go in the same steamer, and his new friend knows a place where they can get their tickets cheaper than at the regular office. To this benevolent asylum they repair, and secure their passages, and then the new friend bethinks him to exchange his currency for gold. The example is contagious. They both exchange their currency for gold, which is counted out in two glittering piles, and since it is clearly unsafe to carry coin about in this rascally City, their good benefactor puts it into two nice belts. Now, if our emigrant friend will step around the counter, his belt will be buckled on, but he would do well not to open it until after the steamer has sailed. In all probability, he complies with this friendly advice, and when just outside of Sandy Hook, let us say, he opens his belt, he may think himself lucky if he finds a quarter of his property.

This is the pretty and lucrative little game for which the ingenious Mr. MCDERMOTT was called to account on Tuesday in the General Sessions. Mr. MCDERMOTT, it is needless to say, has strong political friends, three of whom testified their devotion by swearing fervently to a rather imaginative alibi. But he was sentenced to five years' imprisonment notwithstanding. Now, may we not hope to see MOORE, the head and front of all this heartless villainy, treading in this same path? He is the brother of an ex-Alderman; he wears diamonds; he is undoubtedly a useful man at elections. While already two or three of his less guilty tools have been convicted and sentenced, he has managed by some mysterious process (is it "influence?") to have his trial postponed from time to time, until at last he has forfeited his bail and fled. If he escapes, all that has hitherto been done is naught, and we may expect to see this vile system of plunder speedily revived. The robberies of this man and his confederates have undoubtedly amounted to hundreds of thousands of dollars, from a class of the community the most deserving and the least able to afford it. District-Attorney GARVIN has shown commendable vigor in prosecuting the lesser culprits. Does he mean that the chief malefactor shall escape?

MINOR TOPICS.

It is impossible to gather much authentic information as to the effect upon the insurance companies of the Chicago fire. Enough is known, however, to indicate that a number of the New-York and Boston, and one or two of the Hartford companies must be placed in a very perilous position. Of New-York companies, our reporters learn that the Fulton, Astor, Lamar, Irving, Market, and several others have suffered very severe losses, while the same result is anticipated for the North American of Hartford, the Independent of Boston, the National, Hide and Leather, New-England and Tremont, also of Boston. The North British and Mercantile, and the Liverpool and London, (both English companies,) are supposed to have lost between one and two million dollars each. The Home, Security and International of this City, are also large losers—the amount in the case of the first-named being estimated as high as two million dollars, and in the case of the other two at five hundred thousand dollars each. Of the three companies, the International is probably least likely to be forced to call upon its stockholders for money. Nearly all the small companies have an interest of from five thousand dollars to eighty-five thousand dollars in the fire, but in comparatively few instances will these non-agency companies be very badly injured.

Much uneasiness still prevails in business circles regarding the possible extent of mischief to arise from the Chicago disaster. So far as Wall-street goes, opinions are sharply divided. Some think the worst effect on securities is already experienced, and some that matters will be very much worse before they are better. Strong appeals went over the wires on Tuesday night to President GRANT and Secretary BOUTWELL, urging that the panic which seems imminent should be arrested by the immediate purchase of ten millions worth of bonds. It is thought by prominent and experienced financiers that such a purchase made yesterday, instead of the ordinary purchase of two millions, would have had a mighty salutary effect in restoring confidence by easing the money market. Our financial columns show what so fast was done; but it is to be observed that whatever advantages may be derived from carrying out the suggestion as regards the larger purchase, it is not yet too late to secure them.

If the Committee of Seventy are sanguine enough to hope that they can induce Mayor HALL to pay any attention to their representations on the subject of appointing honest inspectors of election, they cannot proceed too quickly with their task. The redistricting of the City was a very transparent device to enable HALL and his fellow-plunderers to get rid of the awkward ordeal of having the inspectors elected by the people. Having got possession of the power of nomination, the Ring is proceeding to "fix things" with their accustomed celerity, when there is any question of perpetuating their powers over the public purse. TWEED is said to have handed in his list of good serviceable Tammany tools, and "Hank" SMITH contrived to present a list composed of so-called Republicans, warranted to do the dirty work of the Ring, at this critical juncture, in a cheerful and workmanlike manner. The organizing of the repeating gangs is next in order, and the arrangements for cheating the people out of their votes will then be tolerably complete. Meanwhile, it is quite probable that the Ring will find themselves, on election day, grossly mistaken in the supposition that the people will stand calmly by while this last of a long calendar of outrages is being perpetrated upon them.

HENRY HILTON and SWEENY spent on the parks, between Oct. 25, 1870, and Aug. 12, 1871, nearly $4,000,000; they now demand over $800,000 more to get through the remainder of this year with. Is not this paying too dear for SWEENY and HILTON'S whistle? Where are the men engaged who are paid out of the Park funds? Many of them have been employed in doing private work on HILTON'S and FIELD'S property. Can HILTON (fully indorsed by H. G. in the Tribune) deny that fact?

It seems to have almost escaped the attention of the Tammany thieves, and possibly the general public may have forgotten the circumstance, that Judge BARNARD, in the admirable decision rendered by him in the Foley-injunction case, stated very plainly that neither the plaintiff nor the law itself could be held responsible for the injurious effects of the injunction upon the ministerial administration. It, said his Honor, after all the money allowed by law to be raised had been so raised, and then lavishly spent or stolen, it was clearly the duty of the heads of the departments to find out where the missing money had gone, and get it back, in order that it might be applied where it properly belonged. Perhaps Mr. SWEENY saw the point clearly enough when he pretended to advance a hundred thousand dollars or so toward paying off the laborers (so called) of his Department. But TWEED and HALL and CONNOLLY appear to be obtuse, and hesitate to draw upon their private hoards for the purpose of supplying the deficiencies they have themselves created. As we interpret Judge BARNARD'S decision, those men were advised to disgorge voluntarily in this direction, in view of the certainty that the disgorging would otherwise have to be done involuntarily. We hope that Judge BARNARD'S gentle hint will get through the thick skins of these men, and yet produce its proper effect.

If the creatures of the Ring imagine that the sensation caused by the Chicago fire gives them any promise of immunity by drawing off public attention from their rascality, we apprehend that they will be greatly mistaken. Had everything gone on prosperously for everybody, and no such calamity as this Chicago fire, fallen like a shadow upon our capitalists and their plans, it might have been possible, but we hope not probable, that the Ring's robberies would have been overlooked or condoned by the people. But now that several hundred millions of property have been swept into swift destruction, and financial channels choked up, with every prospect of months of monetary stringency to follow, it is morally certain that the fifteen or twenty millions stolen from our tax-payers will be sadly missed and pretty thoroughly sought after. And, as the radius of the rascality is daily narrowing, so that the rogues are known and the stolen sums traced, it is probable that restitution will be demanded by a popular clamor which will admit of no denial.

The Herald yesterday quoted with great gusto "H. G.'s" recent friendly efforts to make out some sort of presentable case for OAKEY HALL and SWEENY. The Herald puts H. G. on the back in the most enthusiastic manner for these latest proofs of his benevolent disposition. When OAKEY HALL is found in contacts over the Tribune, and quoting its articles with loud approval, people may know without much further inquiry which way the wind blows.

An evidence of the careless manner in which some physicians perform their very important functions was given about three weeks since during the ceremony of burying a living person at Racine, Wis. On the previous day, a young girl created quite a sensation in a Scandinavian church by falling to the floor, in what appeared to be a fainting fit. She was removed to the residence of her parents, and a "doctor" called in, who speedily pronounced her dead. Preparations were made for the funeral; a large concourse of people had gathered about the house, and the clergyman had begun to read the service for the dead, when a slight movement of the body was noticed, and afterward a faint beating of the pulse. Restoratives were applied, and the young woman soon opened her eyes and spoke to her friends. She is now able to attend to her household duties as usual. In the meantime, the good citizens of Racine regard the case as one of miraculous raising from the dead; and no one—not even the editor of the local newspaper—thinks of attributing negligence to the doctor.

THE MOULTON CONCERTS.

The sale of seats for the Moulton Concerts began yesterday, at Steinway Hall, and will continue daily, the office opening for the purpose at 9 o'clock each morning. We are glad to hear that the prospects of these concerts are very bright, and that their pecuniary success is likely to be assured in advance.

ABBOTT-SHERWOOD ART NOTES.

The third of Mr. DOLBY'S English ballad concerts occurred at Steinway Hall last evening. Every place on the hall was redemanded. Mr. SANTLEY contributing, as one acknowledgment of the calls for a repeat, the air "Oh! Saddier than the Cherry," in which the rare compass of his voice—two full octaves—and its wondrous flexibility are so felicitously displayed. The fourth and last concert of the present series takes place this night.... "Martha" was sung at the Academy of Music last evening, in presence of a very large and brilliant audience. To-night Miss PARERA-ROSA, Mr. KARL and their fellow-artists are to appear at the Brooklyn Academy of Music in "Lucrezia Borgia," which will there be rendered in English for the first time, we believe, in this country.... HENRY WARNER'S performance in "Il Trovatore" again attracted an overflowing audience to the Stadt Theatre last evening. He is to sing in "The Postilion of Lonjumeau" to-morrow.... Mr. JAMES M. HOWE will be the pianist to the Mendlesohn Concerts in Boston and elsewhere.

MISS KELLOGG IN OPERA.

The irresistible presence of the news printed during the past few days from outside of these columns the tidings, by telegraph, of the complete success of Miss KELLOGG in opera. Miss KELLOGG was first heard on the lyric stage in the United States at the Boston Theatre, on Monday evening last, and a quintette of the Messrs. STRAKOSCH, fresh critics was listened to at the same place and on the same occasion. Criticisms can be advantageously deferred for about a week, for, of the enjoyment of that period, the Italian opera season at the Academy of Music in this City will be commenced. Meantime it is worth saying that the audience that filled to repletion the house quite exceeded the cordiality of a very kindly reception by their demonstrations of delight at the dazzling singer of the opera. All the known pieces were redemanded; the Kellogg ballads elicited unanimous plaudits by its rare combination and prestigious beauty; and a deep impression was produced by the smooth ease, generally noted by Miss KELLOGG and M. ARDITI, and which has not been done by America since the first public rehearsals of GOUNOD'S chief composition. M. CAPOUL'S triumph was won by his delivery of "Salve dimora," and was maintained to the finish of his singing and the fervor of his work until the end of the entertainment. Miss CARY'S welcome we need hardly announce to have been the heartiest imaginable. M. BARRE was declared a capital Valentine. On Tuesday M. CAPOUL and Mlle. DUVAL figured—the lady for the first time—in "Il Barbiere." The recital passed off with abundant success.

THE QUEEN'S CUP.

The International Yacht Race to the End—Mr. Ashbury Declines the Proposition of the New-York Club.

Yesterday, a further meeting of the members of the New-York Yacht Club was held at Commodore Osgood's office, No. 96 Broadway, with reference to the intended race with the Livonia, for the American Cup of 1851. In answer to the communication sent to Mr. ASHBURY on the previous day from the New-York Yacht Club Committee, Mr. ASHBURY sent in the following reply:

BELVIDERE HOUSE, NEW-YORK, Oct. 11, 1871.
Charles J. Minton, Esq., Secretary New-York Yacht Club:

DEAR SIR: I am this evening favored with yours of this day, giving me the final resolution of the New-York Yacht Club in connection with the proposed race for the 1851 Cup.

I beg to inform you, as a consequence, that I have decided forthwith to send the Hermit Royal Albert Yacht Club, 30 tons, over the New-York Yacht Club course, and during the fall of next year, should I not be otherwise employed, I will bring my whole yacht being there to contend for it. If your representative vessel should be of the station and rig, the Livonia will contend against her, and the first time she wins I shall honorably and officially claim the cup for the Club whose flag I had sailed under. If I decide to race in accordance with your letter, I will do myself the pleasure of giving you a few days' notice, however time will not cause me to sail the match, or meet thereof, on the same day for, and hereby make you to send a member of the Club on board to see that the Livonia is in proper trim with the rules. Yours truly, JAMES ASHBURY,
Commodore of the R. H. Y. C., and member of the Twelve Yacht Clubs.

After the above letter was fully discussed at the meeting of the Committee yesterday, it was decided to make the following reply to Mr. ASHBURY:

NEW-YORK, NO. 96 BROADWAY, Oct. 11, 1871.
James Ashbury, Esq., Commodore Royal Harwich Yacht Club:

DEAR SIR: A communication was forwarded to you yesterday from the Committee containing a copy of the resolution of the New-York Yacht Club, offering to sail six races with you, as representative of the Royal Harwich Yacht Club, for the Queen's Cup. Your letter addressed to the New-York Yacht Club has been received, and in reply we are instructed to say that the Club declines to accept your proposition to sail a match with the Livonia, but will sail six races with you, as representative of the Royal Harwich Yacht Club, whose challenge for the America's Cup the New-York Yacht Club has accepted. We have received no answer from you, as having received it, we assume that the offer of the New-York Yacht Club to sail the six races is withdrawn, and we accordingly will not be responsible for any further action of the Board of Gift. Finally, in case of disagreement as to terms, the matter shall be settled over the course for the race subject to the rules now existing between the Royal Harwich Yacht Club and the New-York Yacht Club. We shall be ready with a boat to sail you as a representative of the Royal Harwich Yacht Club only one race over each course of the New-York Yacht Club, at noon of any day between the 1st and 15th of June next, subject to the rules and regulations of the New-York Yacht Club. A communication, dated "New-York, Oct. 11," signed by you as "Commodore of the Royal Harwich Yacht Club," and addressed to the Committee, has been received, in which a race has been proposed to be sailed with the Royal Albert Yacht Club Cup, a club of which we have as yet had no intimation of existence. This letter is signed as if it were to be considered as endorsed by John Cham-mings. We remain, yours truly,

MOSES H. GRINNELL, Chairman,
SHEPPARD GANDY,
ROBERT S. HOOPER,
PHILIP SCHUYLER.

CHARLES A. MINTON, Secretary of Committee.

It now only remains to be seen whether Mr. ASHBURY will name his objections to the terms of the New-York Yacht Club, and at the present time there does not appear to be any hope for an amicable settlement. The probability is that the above will decide whether the Livonia will return to England without a race.

The Queen's Cup and the Livonia.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

In your issue of to-day there appears a report of a special meeting of the New-York Yacht Club, held yesterday at Delmonico's. It seems that the Committee appointed to consider the details of the races with the Livonia, have been in correspondence with Commodore ASHBURY without definite conclusion. Mr. ASHBURY concedes our right to select the course, and is willing that our Club should have the right to name the competing yachts or yacht. He also condescends to sail against a centre-board yacht, and, finally, insists on twelve races.

In another part of the same paper I read with entertainment your account of an interview between your reporter and Mr. ASHBURY, on which occasion the latter announced his ultimatum somewhat as follows:

He must insist on twelve races; is willing to sail under the flag of the Royal Harwich Club if given said twelve races; rejects the proposal of New-York Yacht Club to sail six races, and should the last-named Club reject his plan, will at once return with his yacht to England. Now, Mr. Editor, if I am not greatly mistaken, the yacht America, as the representative of American yachts and yachtsmen, went to England in 1851, sailed against the English yachts in a race open to all comers, and won the Queen's Cup fairly and with ease.

No questions arose at that time as to the number of races to be sailed, nothing was said, in dispute, relative to the course, or the fleet of the English owners to select the same. Nor was any ultimatum presented on our side. The race was fair, and free to

THE RING CRISIS.

Mayor Hall Pushing His Desperate Game.

He is Determined to Remove the Deputy Controller—Further Revelations of Ring Jobbery to be Made—Significant Movements of the Grand Jury.

HALL and his confederates are still busy upon the plot to get rid of Deputy Controller GREEN, but thus far they have apparently accomplished nothing. They are desperately in earnest, however, and avow their determination to carry the point, no matter what the cost may be. The election is approaching rapidly, and enough must be had to carry on the canvass, but as long as an honest man holds the purse none can be got. The weightiest pressure has been brought to bear upon Mr. CONNOLLY to get him to resign his place, but he will listen to nothing of the kind, it is said, until the investigations of the affairs of his department shall have been completed. SWEENY has done his utmost to coerce from him some concession upon this point, and if possible, to patch up a compromise, but every overture has been declined, and these two officials stand as widely separate today as they did on the fine day of the present fight. SWEENY has even gone so far, it is rumored, as to offer to make CONNOLLY a Park Commissioner if he will vacate in favor of Judge HILTON, but CONNOLLY doesn't seem disposed to exchange, and he won't, either.

Every other means failing, these bad men sought to frighten CONNOLLY out of his place. Accordingly, quiet little hints at first, and stronger ones, at length, were thrown out by friends of HALL that unless the Controller resigned he would be arrested at once for forgery. Indeed they went so far as to name the very day on which this would be done, and the Police Court before which the prisoner would be taken. But the time passed by, and up to a late hour of yesterday nothing of the kind had been attempted. The desire of these tricksters is not to punish a guilty man for his crimes, but to get him out of their way. If this can be done without throwing him into prison, well, but if not they will to that even. The community is watching the little game with a degree of interest that would frighten HALL if he knew of it, and decent people, he may rest assured, are in no mood to be trifled with.

More Jobbery Coming to Light.

The Subcommittee appointed to examine into the extent and value of the materials furnished the new Court-house, for which it is conceded by HALL that the amounts paid "may be exorbitant," have almost completed their work. The refusal of the Board of Supervisors to delegate the power to compel the production of papers and the attendance of witnesses, has materially retarded the progress of this as well as of other committees, and has added considerably to their already arduous task.

There is only now lacking to the report of the Court-house Committee, the evidence of experts as to the value of the labor performed, and articles furnished. These will be provided, and the Committee will in all probability report to the Joint Committee today, and it is confidently asserted that the result of their labors will develop the most gigantic "frauds of the period."

The Committee on Printing and Stationery expect to close their researches this week. They have sailed under the the most oppressive difficulties and have found sturdy antagonism in ambush all around them; still they have persisted, and despite the efforts of the New-York Printing Company and their satraps and allies, have succeeded in unearthing an amount of jobbery and robbery beyond their most sanguine expectations. One of the items of their report is over $100,000, paid to the firm of J. O. SHEA, MOORE, KENNARD & MAY, for "stationery and blank-books" furnished the County in 1869 and 1870. These gentlemen are reported as having places of business at No. 9 Nassau-street and No. 21 Church-street, and within the last two years have been paid this amount in warrants ranging from $5,000 to $20,000. The firm dissolved on the 1st of January last. KENNARD & MAY are still engaged in the stationery and blank-book business at No. 19 Liberty-street, and J. O. SHEA "in the "blank-book and stationery business" at No. 9 Nassau-street. The firm is J. O. SHEAMOUR & Co., and the partners are a man named COHEN and still another SHEAMOUR. The firm has passed through a variety of alterations and vicissitudes. Formerly it was LATTIMER BROTHERS & SHEAMOUR, but Mr. LATTIMER, it will be remembered, was killed at the New-Hamburg disaster, and it has since been conducted under various names.

The Broadway Bank Accounts.

The Broadway Bank has thrown open its account with the City to the inspection of the Committee of Seventy, and the latter has instituted a rigid investigation. Its accountants are now at work upon the books of the bank, and some startling disclosures of the plan of "Our City Government" are eagerly looked for. It will not be well to state at this period of their researches exactly what they have ascertained, but the citizens of New-York will not be surprised to find that the "Schuyler-Winthrop" affair is not an isolated one. The officers of the bank have consented to afford the Committee and their agents every facility, and to assist them to the extent of their power in uprooting all the facts arising from the City's connection with the bank, and there is not a possible doubt that the "evidence" implicating Mr. TWEED in that "transaction" which have lately come to light, will be shortly forthcoming. This portion of the Committee's work, it is expected, will be finished this week, and will be incorporated in the coming report.

What is the Grand Jury At?

The Court of Oyer and Terminer sat yesterday, but the Grand Jury failed to make its appearance, although it was known to have been in session on Monday and Tuesday. What it has been doing is the question which every one is anxious to ascertain. Around the District-Attorney's office it was reported, on what seemed official authority, that the Grand Jury had been investigating ordinary criminal cases, but this appeared very unlikely, because it would not in that case have allowed three days to elapse without reporting the result of its labors in open Court. The suspicion was still prevalent that the Ring was trying to "cook up" some charge against Controller CONNOLLY before the Grand Jury, in order, through his removal, to oust Mr. GREEN, who is the lion in their path. It is now announced that the Jury will come into Court on Friday.

The Ingersoll Case—Proceedings Before Judge Ingraham Yesterday—Arguments of Counsel.

Yesterday morning the Ingersoll case was resumed in the Supreme Court, Chambers, before Judge INGRAHAM. The place was crowded. There was some change in the character of the audience, which was not as miscellaneous as on former occasions, and included many professional men, especially lawyers. Previous to the opening of the case there was the usual desultory conversation, and many lawyers declared that they would as soon think of handling a dead horse as of taking such a case. One gentleman said that neither EVARTS nor FULLERTON would add anything to their standing in the profession by accepting the defense, for the reason that it is not strictly a defense of any client, but an attempt to stay the hands of justice. MR. INGERSOLL is not defended by such proceedings but this matters are, and no professional man can fail to detect this fact. There was also considerable joking at the expense of Mr. O'GORMAN, and a lawyer said that the Corporation counsel's ability and knowledge of law were such that it would take him a year to decide the knotty point whether the City had a right under the law to recover stolen property. This produced a loud laugh, which was checked by the entrance of Judge INGRAHAM.

Proceedings were commenced by Judge FULLERTON, who made a motion to show cause why the case should not be dismissed. Judge INGRAHAM flatly refused, on the ground that this was merely a waste of time—a multiplication of motions, but as the counsel insisted, he conceded that it should be considered made. The depositions of Mr. O'GORMAN was then read by Mr. ROOT, junior counsel for the defense, and afterward Judge G. C. BARRETT's affidavit, fixing the responsibility on the Mayor, Controller and Board of Supervisors of all sums paid for the New Court-house, or for the armories. It showed that the amount paid to INGERSOLL was fraudulently obtained, and that in spite of the general knowledge on the subject the City authorities had made no effort to recover the sums so fraudulently paid, and it pointed out that the Committee invited by the City authorities to investigate the books, with the Board of Supervisors, had been violently opposed, and had not been permitted to call witnesses nor to examine into alleged cases of corruption.

There was then a recess, and afterward Judge FULLERTON addressed the Court. Two long hours he devoted to attempts to prove that the present proceedings, as instituted by the counsel of Mr. HAVEMEYER, the nominal plaintiff, were unconstitutional and tyrannical, and an abuse of a citizen's liberty. These proceeding were taken under section 281 of the code, which empowers a citizen to examine a witness before issue or drawing up of any complaint under certain conditions, such as reasonable cause for belief, &c. This, Judge FULLERTON declared the complainants never had, their affidavits being founded solely on rumors published in the columns of lying and licentious newspapers.

Mr. STOUGHTON said that as a citizen and a taxpayer, he was glad of the course the Press had taken, and thanked them for it.

Judge FULLERTON replied precipitately, that he was glad of it too, but there was a way of doing it, and that to turn a Court of justice into a town meeting, was not the way. Finding breakers in this line of argument, he tapered out of it, and then attempted to show that proceedings had been instituted under the wrong section of the Code. It should have been 288, which would have given the complainants power to examine papers, books and writings, not 281, for section 281 was for the purpose of discovering evidence, whereas the affidavits clearly showed that the complainants were in full possession of sufficient evidence to frame a complaint. These were the material points of Mr. FULLERTON's address.

Gen. BARLOW replied. He showed the absurdity of the motion that instead in one place that they had not enough evidence to stand in Court, and in the other that they had too much to commence proceedings under section No. 291 of the Code. He tore to pieces the arguments against the constitutionality of the case, and showed conclusively that Judge FULLERTON had himself mistaken the bearings of section No. 288, which was simply to obtain writings and presupposed actual knowledge of the facts contained in those writings. When he concluded it was about 3¼ P. M., and Judge INGRAHAM after some discussion decided that Mr. STOUGHTON should speak for thirty minutes on the ensuing morning, and that Judge G. C. BARRETT should follow him. The Court was then adjourned.

Inspectors of Election.

Yesterday Mayor HALL was very busy all day making up his lists of Inspectors of Election. Numerous politicians called on him, among whom were Judges Dowling and Bedford, Stephen J. Meany, Morgan Jones, and Senator Genet. These lists, the Mayor says, will be issued just as soon as they are ready, but when that will be he cannot say. As the Bureau of Elections Mr. CORSON was closeted with Senator GENET and others, while the outer room was filled with the smaller fry of politicians, all anxious either to be put on the lists themselves or to get their friends on. Meantime the work of getting up the lists continues all day and a greater portion of the night.

The New County Auditor.

Mr. ABRAHAM L. EARLE, the newly appointed County Auditor, has been a resident of this City for over forty years, and has been during nearly the whole of that time engaged in business. The position of County Auditor was offered Mr. EARLE without any solicitation on his part. He is a Republican.

Wm. H. Cook.

It appears that Wm. H. COOK, the Deputy Superintendent of Repairs and Supplies under Mr. TWEED, has not absconded, as was stated in yesterday's TIMES, he having personally assured us of his presence in town. The assertion that he had disappeared was made on what was deemed good authority.

Receipt of Taxes.

The taxes received yesterday amounted to $32,998 85, making a total of $1,415,008 06 received since the books were opened.

Corporation Advertising.

By law the Corporation is limited to nine daily and eight weekly papers in which to advertise; and yet as many more weeklies, some of them so obscure as to be unknown out of their printing-offices, except to the small circle of friends of the individuals connected with them, publish the Corporation advertisements continually. The greater number of advertisements come from the Department of Public Works, of which Mr. WILLIAM M. TWEED is the "boss," and the Bureau of Assessments, where RICHARD TWEED has potential influence. These obscure papers publish the advertisements under promises from the two TWEEDS that it will be made all right with them when they bring their bills against the City, and they are thus induced to take the risk of getting a judgment for work for which they have no legal authorization. In order to retain the influence and aid of the TWEEDS in getting pay for this unauthorized work, they advocate with all their weak influence the Tammany Ring, and fill their columns with the most abject flattery of our rulers. For this work many of them have been paid from the Treasury, and others have obtained judgments against the City. Since Mr. GREEN has entered the Controller's office, these papers have about given up hope of ever receiving anything, and being deprived of the public pap, are destined to live but a short time longer.

A Plea for the Ring.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

Do you know what will be the result of breaking up the Ring? The reduction of the value of the real estate on the island of New-York and of the surrounding country between here and Yonkers, &c., &c. Don't you see this is certain? Why the Ring and its immediate friends hold this day over fifteen millions of dollars—say fifteen millions of dollars—of real estate that five years ago could have been purchased for three millions of dollars. If the Ring is broken all this immense property will most likely come into the market, or the greater portion of it. Now, what will be the effect of this? Will it not cause a depression in all real estate from the Battery to Harlem and beyond? Mr. ASTOR will have to reduce the rental on every house he owns say twenty-five to thirty-three per cent. You may laugh at this idea, but I tell you it will come to pass. It is as sure as death. It is the operations of the Ring which have inflated the value of real estate; destroy their power and you reduce the price of real estate in this City and suburbs, and you will ruin hundreds who have invested their all in lots and dwellings in this City and near by. I am yours,

A MECHANIC AND CONTRACTOR OF DWELLINGS.

Sale of Blood Horses at Jerome Park Yesterday.

At the sale of blood horses at Jerome Park, yesterday, the bidding was dull at the start. Several went by without a bid. In HUNTING & TRAVERS' stable the imported ch. c. Challenge sold for $325; Glamour, imported bay colt, $226. In BELMONT's stable, imported Meteor sold for $190; Imperator, $155; Lord Byron, $135—the bidding was spirited on this horse; an imported bay filly sold for $800. PURDY's Tasmania $205. O'DONNELL's Harlo, bay colt, by Asteroid, out of Mary Louise, was bought in by owners at $1,501.

POLITICAL AFFAIRS.

THE ELECTIONS.

Ohio Republican by Twenty-Five Thousand—The Legislature Republican on Joint Ballot—Two Rooms in Pennsylvania.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 11.—Returns from Ohio continue to show Republican gains. Republicans claim 19 to 18 majority on the joint ballot in the Legislature, and the State by from 20,000 to 30,000 majority. Returns from fifty-five counties, townships and wards show a majority for the State ticket of 10,524, a Republican gain over the vote of 1870 of 4,495. The Republican gain in Cuyahoga County is 2,833 over the vote of 1869. Returns from eight wards and several precincts in this city have not been received. The Republicans claim the election of eleven out of thirteen candidates in the Legislature. The indications are that NOYES has carried Hamilton County by over 2,000 majority.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 11.—Returns from forty-six counties show a Republican majority of 12,700. The Republican gain on the State ticket is 3,887. The majority in the State will be over 20,000.

PITTSBURG, Penn., Oct. 11.—The election returns were never known to come in so slowly. Every Republican member of the House and both Senators from Allegheny County are elected. DILWORTH, the Republican and Temperance candidate for County Commissioner, is probably defeated. In Schuylkill County, WALKER, Democratic candidate for Law Judge, is elected by 500 majority.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 11.—Complete returns of the city make STANTON's majority for Auditor 10,346; STOKLEY for Mayor, 9,261; MCCUMSE for City Commissioner, 12,533; MANN for District-Attorney, 2,194; BROWN for Coroner, 14,029; HANCOCK for City Controller, 13,122. In the Twenty-second Ward the vote taken on granting tavern licenses resulted in 1,223 majority against licenses. The State Legislature will probably stand: Senate—18 Republicans, 15 Democrats. House—60 Republicans, 41 Democrats.

The Bulletin gives the following as the vote of the city for State officers:

POLITICAL NOTES.

Gen. BUTLER is to lecture in Philadelphia Monday evening, on the Washington Treaty.

P. C. WYCKOFF is the Democratic candidate in the Twenty-fifth District.

ARCHIBALD KENNEDY has been nominated for Assembly by the Republicans of Livingston County.

GEORGE W. WOOD is the Democratic candidate for Assembly in the Third District of Oswego County.

JOHN F. SCOTT has been nominated by the Democrats for Senator in the Twentieth District.

The Press claims for Philadelphia the proud and peerless position of being the citadel of the Republican Party of America.

The Republicans of the Second District of Wayne County have nominated LUCIEN T. YEOMANS for Assembly.

CORNWELL M. NOXON has been nominated for Assembly by the Democrats of the First District of Saratoga County.

ALEX. H. STEPHENS says he never yet has seen a single article of his republished in a single Radical paper.

H. J. EASTMAN was yesterday nominated for Assembly by the Republicans of the Second District of Dutchess County.

A meeting of the Democratic State Executive Committee of Tennessee is to be held in Nashville, on Tuesday, Oct. 31.

The long contest in the Republican Convention for the Twenty-fourth District has been terminated by the nomination of Hon. THOMAS J. CRATTENDEN, of Tioga, for Senator.

MATTHEW HALE is the Republican candidate for Assembly in the Second District of Albany County, and DANIEL L. BABCOCK in the Third.

Col. WILLIAM JOHNSON, of Seneca Falls, was yesterday nominated for Senator by the Democratic Convention for the Twenty-sixth District.

The official announcement shows that 7,985 votes were cast in Nebraska for the proposed new Constitution, and 3,627 against it; majority against, 641.

The Philadelphia Age is very unhappy over the result of the elections in Pennsylvania, and tries to explain it away. But the Age cannot wither nor time efface the glory of the Republican victory.

The members of the anti-dram-shop party have named THOMAS COLLINS for Assembly in the First District of Rensselaer County, and JOHN MCCABE in the Third District of the same county.

The Conservative Committee of Virginia has announced a list of over 100 canvassers for the State, and earnestly appeals to them to take the stump at once. The Committee is evidently alarmed at the prospect of losing the State. The list includes Alexander H. H. Stuart, Robt. E. Withers, Thomas S. Bocock, Robert Ould, R. T. W. Duke, Thomas S. Flournoy, and Fayette McMullen.

General dissatisfaction at the ticket nominated by the Democrats in Baltimore County, Maryland, has led to the formation of an independent ticket at a meeting of Republicans and Democrats in Towsontown. Hon. WILLIAM P. PRESTON heads it as the candidate for State Senator, and both parties are represented on the ticket, which, the Baltimore American says, is a most excellent one, and very likely to be successful.

LOCAL POLITICS.

Nineteenth Ward Reform Meeting.

The meeting of the citizens of the Nineteenth Ward called by the Council of Political Reform, held last evening at No. 1,000 Third-avenue, was largely attended. The audience was attentive and earnest.

Judge H. C. VAN VOORST presided, and briefly stated, on taking the chair, the object of the meeting to be the consideration and adoption of measures for a thorough reform in municipal affairs.

JAMES C. CARTER, Esq., then addressed the meeting at length in a well-considered speech.

He exposed the corruption and fraud in the management of City affairs, and gave a detailed statement of the increase of our debt to $120,000,000 in a period of about three years, and the method by which it had been done. He reminded the citizens of their duty in this emergency. He argued that they should take, without distinction of party, an active part in all just and efficient efforts for reform. He spoke of the importance of the coming election for members of the Assembly and Senate, and earnestly advised a union of all good citizens to secure the election of the best men for both the Legislature and the Judiciary.

Mr. CARTER was listened to with deep attention.

A series of resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting were offered by Mr. S. D. MOULTON and adopted.

JOSEPH C. JACKSON, Esq., also addressed the meeting, when an adjournment was had to Oct. 19, at the same place.

A large number of new members joined the Association, which promises to be an extensive organisation.

Whereas, Recent investigation into the management of municipal affairs—though but partial—reveals to the gaze of the country and world the humiliating fact, that the Government of the great empire City of the Western Continent is nothing more or less than one great seething mass of corruption and rottenness from top to bottom; criminal laws have become a dead letter; the sacred oath, a flippant formality; confidence in the Judiciary rudely shaken; the ballot-box a fraud and delusion; peculation and plunder the public treasury the rule, honesty the exception, and

Whereas, All history and precedent, sternly admonish us, that such condition of public or official morals cannot be suffered to continue without destruction not only to life, limb and property, but to the underlying vital principle of popular government itself. Therefore be it

Resolved, That this Council of Political Reform will meet earnestly unite with its neighbors and fellow-citizens of any party, color, creed or nationality in an honest unselfish effort to rescue and save the City from the dire calamities into which it is being precipitated through the vandalism of an infamous Ring of unscrupulous demagogues, and to that end, we do hereby collectively and individually solemnly pledge ourselves; and be it further

Resolved, That we do hereby individually pledge ourselves to vote at the approaching election, and for such men only as are well and favorably known to the community as above suspicion or reproach for honesty and integrity; and for no man who may be known or suspected of implication or affiliation with, or in any manner dependent upon, the "Ring" for favors past or present, and to that end we do hereby respectfully demand of the powers that be (and with a firm determination to accept nothing less) the adoption of such measures as will secure to us, and to every legal voter of the City and County, open and fair play at the polls, with an honest canvass and correct return of every ballot so cast.

The Syracuse Bolters—Peace Dawning.

The delegates to the Syracuse Convention from the Republican organization of Twenty-second-street met yesterday evening to consider a communication from ALONZO B. CORNELL, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, requesting them to send three members to the State Committee, in accordance with the action of the State Convention. Mr. SINCLAIR TOUSEY was in the chair. Gen. COCHRANE offered a resolution, suggesting to the State Committee that the proposition be sent to the Executive Committee of the General Committee. Then Mr. SINCLAIR TOUSEY rose and resigned the chair to Mr. BANGS, and immediately commenced a recapitulation of the woes of Syracuse and "the brand of Tammany that had been fastened like a dollar round their necks." But the meeting was animated by a strong desire for harmony, and COCHRANE's motion was carried almost unanimously. A resolution was passed subsequently that every delegate should present to Gen. COCHRANE a list of the inspectors, canvassers and clerks of election which the district desired to have appointed, and that Gen. COCHRANE would present them to the Committee of Seventy. The usual vote of thanks was then passed, and the delegation adjourned sine die.

Democratic Reform General Committee.

The Democratic Reform General Committee met last evening at Apollo Hall. Mr. OSWALD OTTENDORFER made an eloquent address in denunciation of Tammany Hall. A resolution of confidence in the Committee of Seventy was passed, and a Committee was appointed to wait upon the Mayor and request him to appoint an inspector and canvasser in each election district to be named by the Committee, for the purpose of securing a fair and impartial election in said districts and a fair and honest count of votes. The resolutions were adopted.

The Fall Opening at Altmans'.

A quarter of a million of dollars' worth of velvets, silks, satins and laces make a goodly display if tastefully disposed, and such we think will be the opinion of those who visit the ALTMANS' store in Sixth-avenue, who have lately opened their Fall stock of goods. A brief inspection will show silks of the newest and choicest shades, some remarkably rich and heavy velvets. The newest fashions in Fall costumes, with bridal trousseaux and wedding outfits, that seem almost too rich and delicate for mortal fingers to touch. A vast stock of ready-made under clothing of the finest quality, with Paris, Vienna and Berlin goods, recently received, complete the varied stock displayed to view.

IMPORTANT

TO

HOLDERS OF 5-20 BONDS.

No. 290 Wall-st., New-York, Oct. 11.

The success of the Government Loan foreshadows the early funding of the entire Public Debt at 5 per cent., or a less rate, and indicates that the average rate of interest on loanable capital will not hereafter be much above 6 per cent.

Holders of Five-twenties must therefore decide whether it is not best to make AT ONCE such a change of investment as will enable them to realize AS PROFIT, or add to their capital, the present average premium of 14 per cent on Five-twenties, while at the same time largely increasing their annual income.

They have special reason to consider the question of conversion, unless they wish to receive coin for their Five-twenties, or exchange them at par for the bonds of the new issue bearing an average rate of 4½ per cent.

To all holders of United States Securities who wish to take advantage of the present most favorable opportunity for making the suggested change of investment, we strongly recommend

NORTHERN PACIFIC

SEVEN-THIRTIES,

the sales of which thus far in October are LARGER THAN EVER BEFORE, showing that capitalists and investors have the fullest confidence in them.

THEY ARE SELLING AT PAR IN CURRENCY, AND YIELD AN INTEREST OF 7.30 PER CENT. IN GOLD. THE PRINCIPAL IS ALSO PAYABLE IN GOLD.

THE HOLDER OF A $1,000 FIVE-TWENTY BOND WHO EXCHANGES IT NOW FOR NORTHERN PACIFICS, THEREBY INCREASES HIS PRINCIPAL BY 14 PER CENT., RECEIVING $1,140 IN NORTHERN PACIFICS FOR $1,000 IN FIVE-TWENTIES.
